Happy New Year

At this time, the beginning of a new year, it behooves us to take stock of the status of our beloved organization, The American Numismatic Association. Are we progressing? Are we retrogressing? Or are we standing still? In my opinion we have been steadily advancing both in size and in the fulfillment of our aims. At this moment our membership is over 25,000 collectors, many of whom live abroad. This makes us the largest numismatic association in the world.

Work is steadily progressing on plans for a National Headquarters. A new and useful Membership Directory will soon be released. Other goals are in the planning stage.

At this time your President wishes for you a Merry Christmas, bountiful New Year and that the collections of all of you shall flourish.

FORMS OF NEW WORLD TREASURE

By

MENDEL L. PETERSON, A.N.A. No. 11596

DURING the three centuries of Spanish rule in America, several billions in gold and silver traveled the great treasure route from New World ports to Spain. This flow of treasure was the life blood of the mother country, sustaining her as a great power in the cockpit of European politics. Spain, a nation poor in natural resources, through her tremendous energy and ruthless exploitation, was able to increase the national wealth to a point which gave her pre-eminence in Sixteenth Century Europe. Her armies were the finest, her fleet very powerful, and her political intrigues unceasing — all paid for by American wealth.

The route over which this treasure flowed from America to Spain was dictated by the natural air and sea currents of the North Atlantic.

"Leaving Spain, ships bound for the Caribbean normally would drop down to the vicinity of the Cape Verde Islands and sail westward on the southerly winds, which came to be known as the Southeast Trades because of this fact. The ships would make a landfall around Trinidad, enter the Caribbean, and sail to their port of destination — Cartagena, Vera Cruz, or Havana, Cuba. In returning to Spain, ships normally would rendezvous at Havana and form a flota or convoy for protection against enemies. Leaving Havana they would set a northeasterly course, which would carry them to the entrance of the Florida Straits. Here they would alter their course to the northward and would speed along on the Gulf Stream which funnels through the Straits on its way to the North Atlantic.

"Leaving the Florida Straits the convoy would catch the prevailing westerlies and ride these winds back to Spain."<sup>1</sup>

In the earlier days of the trade, the Old Bahama Channel running along the northern coast of Hispaniola and out into the Atlantic sometimes was used but this route was pretty much abandoned in the later days of the Hapsburgs and the time of the Bourbons. Auxiliary routes fed the main treasure route from Honduras and Guatemala, one or two ships sailing from ports in those areas and joining the main convoy at Havana or off Cape San Antonio.

The wealth of the Orient also was fed into this system by the annual Manila galleon which brought to Acapulco the varied luxuries of the Orient, including porcelains, silks, gold jewelry, and gems. From this port the goods were transhipped by mule to Vera Cruz, where they were loaded on the ships of the flota. At the height of development under the Hapsburgs, one or two fleets would sail each year, those ships (known as the galleons) going to Cartagena to get the South American treasure. The name galleon also applied to a warship built specially to carry treasure — and, popularly, to almost any Spanish ship.

The galleons under the Captain General would call at Cartagena and wait while smaller vessels would go to Porto Bello for the Peruvian gold and silver, which usually was transported over the Isthmus of Panama by muleback, having come by ship from Callao, Peru. Another vessel would go to the island of Margarita to pick up the annual production of pearls from the beds of that group of islands.

The trade between America and Spain was a tightly controlled monopoly, at least in the days of the Hapsburgs, of Seville, and the guild of merchants there. Every detail of the commerce was regulated. Most of the annual trade occurred during brief fairs held at Porto Bello and Vera Cruz.

When the galleons arrived at Cartagena, the merchant ships and smaller coasting vessels would carry the products of Spain on to Porto Bello, where the annual fair was held. Here the Spanish merchants met their counterparts from South America and the goods of Europe were traded for the gold, silver, medicinal materials, dyestuffs, and rare woods of America, the fair being concluded within a few weeks.

Meanwhile, the flota destined for Vera Cruz with the trade goods for New Spain (Mexico) having separated from the galleons upon entering the Caribbean, sailed on to that port where another fair was held. In sailing to Vera Cruz, the ships for Guatemala and Honduras detached themselves and stopped with the trade goods for those areas. The trade at Vera Cruz being completed, the flota sailed to Havana to rendezvous with the galleons and their convoy.

When a period of fine weather was anticipated, the combined fleets set sail up the Florida Straits and sailed on to Spain.

"Literally hundreds of ships sailed through the Straits every year, and while this highway was the best exit from the Indies, in times of foul weather it became a death trap for individual ships and at times for whole fleets. Even in calm weather a miscalculation of course could be disastrous, since the fringing reefs which run along the Florida Keys and the eastern coast of southern Florida were a constant threat to the unwary navigator. Often enemy ships that sought to prey on the Spanish became victims of the natural hazards of the Straits and added their remains to the reefs alongside those of their intended victims."<sup>2</sup>

Today there are hundreds of shipwreck sites lying along the flanks of this great treasure route. Most of these sites do not contain quantities of treasure. Many of these ships did not carry wealth and others were well salvaged by the Spaniards. There are a few, however, which sank under conditions making salvage impossible or impractical. These sites have yielded collections of silver and gold as well as other numismatic objects, thereby enriching our knowledge of this fascinating period.

The first finds of gold on Hispaniola and Cuba before the invasion of Mexico by Cortez in 1519 produced little metal. Enough was found to stimulate the imagination and energy of the Spaniard, with the result that the local Indians and those imported from the Bahamas virtually were wiped out in working for the new masters.

With the opening of Mexico and the discovery of the treasure of Montezuma, the Spanish had visions of vast quantities of gold yet to be found. They were to be disappointed. The treasure of Montezuma represented the labor of many generations of Indians working the comparatively modest deposits of gold in Mexico. The Spanish, not considering this fact, thought the yellow metal was there to remove by the shovelful. While the gold was not found in quantity, after a generation of exploration, silver was discovered in great amounts and the wealth of the vice royalty of New Spain was based on these finds. A mint was set up in Mexico City in 1536 and coining of silver began in increasingly large quantities.<sup>3</sup> The mint served as the tax gathering agency for the king. All precious metals, in order to enter the channels of commerce legally, had to go through the assay, pay the royal tax (usually a tenth or a fifth) and be stamped to signify compliance. Coin silver was accepted as taxed silver, since the tax was levied when the miner had his silver coined.

This new wealth created a tremendous demand for the luxury goods of Europe and the trade between Spain and New Spain boomed. To pay for these goods, enormous quantities of silver began to flow to Spain. The same steps to opulence were taken in South America as new mines of silver and gold were discovered in New Granada, Peru, and Ecuador.

"During the 300 years from 1520 to 1820, at least 8 billions in gold and silver were funneled through the Florida Straits to Spain. Actually, the figure probably is much larger than this, since many resourceful Spaniards concealed their wealth to avoid the . . . Royal tax."<sup>4</sup>

The actual physical form of silver shipped home in the trade varied. Bars of about seventy pounds weight seem to have been standard throughout the Spanish Colonial period. One in the National Museum recovered from the Florida Straits by Arthur McKee and Charles Brookfield in 1952 was marked with the serial number, tax stamps, and two cyphers, probably merchants' marks. It shows the "assayer's bite," a small semi-circular cut made by the assayer's chisel as he obtained his official sample (Plate II, No. 3).<sup>5</sup> It dates from the reign of Philip IV, 1621-1662.

The next lower weight of bulk silver was the wedge of six to fifteen pounds. These wedges are mentioned by Thomas Gage, who saw them in the square at Porto Bello when he went through that port on his way to Europe.<sup>6</sup> Several examples of these wedges have been found by Kip Wagner of Sebastian, Florida, on the wreck site of a ship believed to have been the Almiranta, of the Fleet of 1715, wrecked in a hurricane in July of that year. This same site has yielded great quantities of cob silver coins of the Mexico City mint which are described below.

The wedge shown in Plate II was purchased by the National Museum from Wagner. Originally it weighed about 9 pounds avoirdupois but its present weight is 3 pounds, 14 ounces, having been eroded by electrolysis. The surface of the wedge, having been converted to silver sulphide, is too rough to show any traces of marks which the wedge might have borne.

<sup>5</sup>The weight of seventy pounds seems to have been standard for bars of silver and other metals and chests of silver coin. This must have been based on the weight a healthy man could be expected to lift throughout a working day.

A third form of bulk silver which I have observed is the ingot. These round cakes weighed a pound or two and were found by Tim Watkins of Miami on a wreck site associated with the Fleet of 1733.

The surface of the cakes I examined had been eroded by electrolysis to such an extent that I could find no traces of marks.

Spanish records, in describing silver shipments, refer to coined and worked silver. The latter consisted of all sorts of objects of utility and ornament which were assayed and taxed by weight. Theoretically, each piece of worked silver was supposed to carry a touch mark of the maker, an assayer's mark, and a stamp signifying payment of tax. Many from shipwreck sites which I have examined do not carry such marks, further evidence of the Spanish talent for smuggling.

A large portion of the silver going from the New World to Spain was in the form of coin. The mints of Spanish America struck coin in enormous quantity, considering the crude equipment of the time. Large amounts of coin were loaded immediately on ships departing for Spain, in payment for imported goods, as remittances to accounts, and as the royal tax. Most of the coins found on the sites associated with the fleet of 1715 are dated that year while coins found on sites of wrecks of the fleet of 1733 are dated 1731-1732 (Plate I).

The sites associated with the fleet of 1733 have yielded the rare pillar dollars of Mexico City dated 1732. The new roller mills, screw punches and presses had just been set up and a very small number of these coins found their way aboard the ships for Spain. The cobs of that year outnumbered the milled pillar dollars about one hundred to one in the wreck finds (Plate I).

The earliest silver coins found on sites in the New World which have come to my attention are those recovered from the Tucker-Canton treasure site in Bermuda. This world famous find included pieces of eight and four reales dated in the early 1590s to 1594. It is believed the wreck occurred in 1595 or 1596. The coins bear the mint marks of Lima and Potosí. The site has not been definitely identified. The gold treasure from this site is described below.

Another early site in Bermuda waters which has yielded silver coins of Spanish America is that of the San Antonio, which went down in September 1621. The numismatic objects from this wreck site have been the subject of another paper.<sup>7</sup> A brief description of the coins will suffice here.

These pieces with one exception are of the Potosí mint and date from the reign of Philip III, 1598-1621 (Plate II). One piece is a fine example of eight reales from the mint of Segovia, in Spain, and displays the beautiful workmanship of that mint which had water-powered machinery many years before the other mints of Spain and Spanish America. It is dated 1617.

This site also yielded small base silver slugs shaped much like a modern medicinal capsule. These slugs were found among quantities of cowrie shells and may have been cast in this form to be smuggled into Spain in the bags of cowries. Several examples of worked silver were discovered on this site, among them a fine candlestick. This wreck was discovered and salvaged by the Tucker-Canton team.

While the scope of this paper was to be limited to a discussion of silver and gold discovered on New World sites, I feel I must take note of a remarkable discovery recently made on Great Bases Reef, off the southern coast of Ceylon.

In 1961, Arthur Clarke, Mike Wilson, and two young divers, Mark Smith and Bobby Kriegel, were diving on the reef making pictures for a book and lectures. One day between picture taking, Wilson, Smith, and Kriegel were swimming along the reef when Wilson spotted a small bronze cannon. Swimming down to the gun, he immediately spotted another. As the three searched the reef they began to find clusters of sand-covered discs clinging to the reef. Finally a chunk of encrusted coins in the shape of a whole bag was found.

When the diving was over the group had recovered more than 130 pounds of silver rupees with a very few half rupees scattered about in the clusters (Plate II). Later examination of the guns proved them to be English.

While the wreck is not definitely identified, it possibly will prove to be a ship of the East India Company. Further exploration of the site is expected to yield evidence which will lead to a firm identification.

Gold being a much rarer metal than silver, the bulk of this metal is much smaller than that of silver, although the physical shapes are the same — bars, wedges and cakes, coins and worked shapes. The Tucker-Canton treasure (Plate III) contained the most exciting find of bulk gold ever turned up in the Americas:

1. A large bar weighing 1002.5 grams (more than 35 ounces) of 21 $\frac{3}{4}$  carat gold was stamped four times with a punch, much like a coining die, bearing the inscription (PHILIPP) VS. I. I. D. G. HISP (.ET.IND.REX.). The carat stamp was XXI, above which three dots was punched in three times. A rectangular stamp with the word PINTO indicated the gold to be from the Pinto River in the Chaco region of New Granada<sup>8</sup> (Plate III, No. 1).

2. An ingot roughly circular weighing 555.8 grams. It bears a circular stamp of uncertain design applied three times. Traces of a legend . . . CALI . . . appear. A carat mark XVIII and two dots applied twice indicating 19 $\frac{1}{2}$  carats fineness. A rectangular stamp reading ESPAÑOL applied once (Plate III, Nos. 4 and 5).

3. Another ingot roughly circular weighing 354.6 grams. A circular stamp with the arms of Spain surrounded by the legend PHILIPVS. (EX. HISPAN) which is applied three times. A carat mark XX (20 carats) is applied twice and a rectangular stamp <sup>o</sup> D HER applied once (Plate III, Nos. 4 and 6).

4. A section of bar 27 x 25 x 7.5 mm, weighing 80 grams. One circular stamp bearing the arms of Spain, the legend not struck up. A carat mark XXII (22 $\frac{1}{2}$  carats) applied over the circular stamp (Plate III, No. 2, left).

5. A section of bar 23 x 23 x 7 mm, weighing 46.16 grams bearing a circular stamp and the letters BVR, the meaning of which are unknown, although there might be some connection with Burgundy<sup>9</sup> (Plate III, No. 2, right).

6. All irregular gold bar 70 x 20 x 4 mm, weighing approximately 4 $\frac{1}{2}$  ounces. Multiple stampings with the die described under 5 above (Plate III, No. 8).

All the gold recovered from the site of the San Antonio has been in the form of worked metal. The contemporary accounts of the wreck of the ship mention an "Ingott of gold."<sup>10</sup> A "wedge of gold" is mentioned in several depositions<sup>11</sup> but none of these forms were found in Tucker's exploration of the site. A quantity of gold chain and individual links, all unsoldered, was recovered (Plate II, No. 1). This is believed to be gold carried in that form for convenience of division. The links were of a purity and weight giving forty-two of them the value of one escudo. The advantages of this form over the bar or ingot are manifest. A simple counting operation and a twist of the wrist would give a desired weight instantly.

<sup>8</sup>The Spanish were meticulous in identifying the source of their metal. A silver bar in the McKee Museum, Fla., which was recovered from the same site as that described in this paper, bears the stamp NATA, identifying the bar as metal from that region in Panama. The bronze guns of the Spanish were almost always marked with the source of the metal in them.

<sup>9</sup>A full discussion of this find is in Kent, J.P.C. "Gold Bars and Ingots from the Bermuda Treasure." Numismatic Chronicle, sixth series, Vol. XVIII, 1958.

<sup>10</sup>"A true note of several voyages made by me, William Seymour, by severall comaunds from Capt. Nath. Butler then Governor of the Somers Ilandes . . ." in State Papers, Colonial, 1622-23, vol. II. No. 13 in Lefroy, J. H. Memorials of the Bermudas, vol. I reprinted, 1932, p. 254.

The worked gold from this site included a small religious medal bearing the Virgin Mary on one side and the Virgin of Guadeloupe on the other (Plate II, No. 6); several finger rings set with stones, including one set with a perfect emerald of a carat weight; a pair of earrings made by the lost wax process with pendants of crystal and pearls; gold filigree buttons, and portions of other gold jewelry. One natural gold nugget also was found (Plate II, No. 6).

The wreck sites associated with the fleets of 1715 and 1733 in the Florida Straits have yielded little worked gold but several fine coins have turned up. A two escudo piece recovered by Craig Hamilton of Miami from a site of the fleet of 1733, struck at Mexico in 1722, is an exceptional specimen (Plate I, No. 3). I have seen a two escudo cob piece recovered by Arthur McKee from a site associated with the fleet of 1733. The Kip Wagner group has recovered an exceptional object of worked gold from the site of a vessel of the fleet of 1715 and believed to be the Almiranta. This is a golden dragon containing a toothpick and ear spoon on a chain formed of four loops with a total length of twenty-eight feet. The chain and dragon are of the most refined workmanship and may be of oriental origin.

There are hundreds of early wreck sites yet to be discovered. Their exploration, analysis, and study are expected to furnish students of numismatics with further knowledge of the forms which treasure took in the days of Spanish domination in the New World.

CAT CAY TOKENS OF THE BAHAMAS

By

ELWIN C. LESLIE

In 1931 Louis Rice Wasey, of New York City and New Canaan, Conn., whose wealth was acquired through a successful career in advertising, cruised through the Bahamas on his yacht, the Gay Jane. One day he happened upon a little island just half a mile wide and 2½ miles long, located just south of Bimini. It was Cat Cay. Its fluttering palms, golden beaches, beautiful coral formations, and clear, blue-green waters won his heart. Louis Wasey knew he had found his Shangri-la.

Many of the islands in these waters abound in magnificent scenic beauty, but Cat Cay, in addition, enjoys an entrancing, storybook history. It was a water stop for the Spanish gold galleons, where they filled their casks before setting sail for their home ports across the Atlantic. The well they used still exists on the island, carefully preserved.

Later, Sir Henry Morgan, the buccaneer, was given the island as a reward for his harrassment of the Spanish. There are records indicating that he buried 3,000 pounds of bullion on Cat Cay. Wasey never instigated a serious hunt for the treasure, believing the glamor of the legend far outweighed any possible monetary worth of the bullion.

Some years passed and the island reverted to the British crown, Queen Victoria rented it to a Bahamian named Stuart who was "keeper of her majesty's Bahama lighthouses." The rental, picturesquely, was "one peppercorn a year," payable on demand. Stuart lived there many years and helped beautify the island by planting palm trees.

Next came an Englishman named Haigh, and finally the Milo Strongs, who departed after the island was leveled by the great hurricane of 1926. In the interim many persons sought to buy Cat Cay, including Al Capone, who felt it might offer a better haven than his Biscayne Bay estate. The Strongs loved their island and refused to sell to anyone until Louis Wasey came along and, by his enthusiasm convinced them his love for the island was comparable to theirs.

Wasey's "discovery" of the island was not entirely accidental, as he long had harbored a dream of a golden paradise resort, and had quite definite ideas of what he was seeking. He proceeded immediately to plan and build, during the next few years devoting much time, thought and imagination to improvements and construction on the island.

Most of the furnishings were chosen in England by Mrs. Wasey, who had an excellent knowledge of antiques. One of the few treasures brought from the United States was a portrait of a buxom redhead that formerly hung in the bar of the old Hollenden hotel in Cleveland, Ohio. Tennis courts, skeet fields, swimming pool, and a beautiful golf course formed the play area of the island.

Guests came to the island by invitation and were screened for their interesting personalities and reputation. Consequently, Cat Cay has entertained the finest sportsmen, royalty, and business executives. A few have been permitted to build homes on the island. Others come back year after year to their little gem in the Bahamas. The names "Edward" and "Wallis," duke and duchess of Windsor, are burned into the old oak paneling of the Kitten Key Bar, as are many others representing American wealth and social life who have visited Cat Cay.

The annual Cat Cay tuna tournament draws big game fishermen from all over the world in May and June. In the channels at the north and south ends of Cat Cay, some of the best game fishing in the world can be found during the tuna run. Three world's records were broken with the landing of a 730-lb. Blue Marlin by a woman guest. Wasey's 500-lb. Marlin, caught in 1933, rests over the mantel in the dining room of the lodge to spur others to equally impressive catches.

Considering Louis Wasey's career in advertising, it was natural that he would explore novel ideas in building and operating his dream resort. It is not surprising that he decided to strike his own token coinage, to be used on the island as a medium of exchange as well as for game counters and souvenirs. He chose his daughter, Jane, a sculptor in her own right, to design the tokens. Jane Wasey was born in 1912, studied in Paris and in the United States. Besides exhibiting in shows throughout the United States and winning many awards, she has had a number of one-man shows. Her works are owned by many prominent individuals, museums, and universities across the country. She is active in various organizations devoted to the arts.

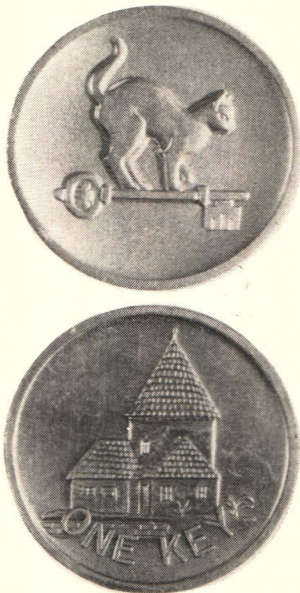

The name of the island, Cat Cay or Cat Key, as it sometimes is called, made it nearly mandatory to use the cat and key as motifs for the obverse of the token. The clear symbolism of the design made the lettered name of the island superfluous.

The reverse depicts the island's quaint water tower, with the denomination ONE KEY, HALF A KEY, or QUARTER KEY beneath.

The tokens were struck by the L. G. Balfour Company, whose main office is at Attleboro, Mass. The firm celebrated its fiftieth anniversary in 1963. The first order for Cat Cay tokens was placed in February of 1946. There were subsequent orders, but records no longer exist.

According to L. G. Balfour, founder of the company, who worked personally with Louis Wasey in producing the tokens, they were struck in a special alloy designated as "government bronze." This bronze matures with age and darkens around the lettering and design motifs. It is not artificially oxidized or treated in any way, but is a natural finish rubbed down by hand. Some of the tokens were left in this natural state while others were plated with various finishes. The denominations and their exchange value on the island were set at: Quarter key, twenty-five cents; half a key, fifty cents; one key, one dollar.

The one key, obverse and reverse, size 38 mm. The reverses of the half a key and quarter key are the same except for the values, the former being 30 mm. and the latter is 24 mm. in diameter.

All denominations were struck in the following finishes:

1. Bronze, natural finish.
2. Bronze, electroplated with one tenth fine gold, Roman finish (imparting a satin luster).
3. Bronze, electroplated with silver (satin luster).
4. Bronze, electroplated with one tenth fine gold, bright polish (imparting a bright proof-like shine).
5. Bronze, electroplated with silver and then nickel plated (imparting a bright proof-like shine).

The latter two finishes with the proof-like surface were struck in small quantities, indicating their primary function was to be as jewelry or souvenirs, rather than tokens.

In later years the same dies were used to produce jewelry items in sterling silver and in 10k gold. These were not used as tokens. Another die of the same design was made in the size of a ten cent piece, with strikings in gold for use as charm jewelry.

Occasionally Cat Cay tokens are listed in various metals and described as patterns, the natural assumption being that the various metals indicate trial strikes (Sotheby's 1954 Palace Collection of Egypt-Farouk sale, lot 2632). However, the sterling silver and 10k gold strikings were jewelry items and not patterns, and the other finishes are normal tokens and not patterns. The two types with the proof-like surface may have been used occasionally as tokens, but their primary function was as jewelry.

Today, Cat Cay exists as a private club with 200 members by invitation. The standards and traditions set by Louis R. Wasey have been preserved by his daughter, Jane Wasey, who has served as president of the club since her father's death several years ago. The tokens are used to a very limited extent on the island.

VINCZE DESIGNS PAPAL MEDAL

Paul Vincze, noted British sculptor whose medallic works are known throughout the world, was recently commissioned to execute a medal of Pope Paul VI. The medal features the Holy Father on the obverse and the Good Samaritan with a Latin quotation from the New Testament (VADE ET TV FAC SIMILITER — "Go and Do Thou Likewise") on the reverse. Although medalists and other artists are usually given seats near the Pope during public audiences so they can study his face, Vincze was favored with a personal sitting.

Investigation of Fraudulent Ballots

To facilitate the Association's investigation of the attempt to stuff the ballot box at the 1963 election of officers, a committee has been appointed with full power to carry on the inquiry in behalf of the Board of Governors. The committee consists of Governors Harold R. Klein, chairman, and Harold H. Berk, and Legal Counsel Max M. Schwartz.

While the new committee has no report to make at this time, other than furnishing this information, it is actively at work. As stated in a recent issue of Coin World, considerable correspondence between its staff and various agencies and persons has been made available to the committee; and the auditing firm of Troupe, Kehoe, Whiteaker and Kent, which conducted the election, has furnished complete details.

A report of the election procedure and facts about the unofficial ballots was published in the October, 1963 issue of The Numismatist, page 1352. Some undisclosed details, however, have led to rumors, speculation and misunderstandings about the 1,493 fraudulent ballots. The following facts, from the auditing firm's report to the committee, complete the known story of the election.

Anyone having additional information on the source or reason for the unofficial ballots is urged to communicate them to a member of the committee at his address shown on the second page of most issues of The Numismatist. If so requested, the committee will hold the name of the sender of such information in confidence.

Numismatic Papers: Show and Tell Time

Remember the "Show and Tell Days" of kindergarten? You proudly held the rock — or whatever — from your collection and told your fellow classmates about it adding adventure and excitement.

Now, here is your opportunity to take part in a grown-up "Show and Tell Activity." Half the joy of owning is sharing. Share your numismatic knowledge by writing it down — double spaced typing, please. Show your treasure. Though not necessary, pictures and illustrations do add interest and certainly help to tell the story.

Don't hide behind the old saw that there's nothing new in numismatics. What about putting the "new" back into "numismatics?" Break the vast territory into acre plots and the going will be easier. Take an old topic and give it a new twist — your special variety. Documentary writing is no more difficult than unverified comments. In fact, it is almost impossible to do otherwise. With the many periodicals, papers and books touching on every phase of numismatics, how can you ignore facts?

Every bit of knowledge leads, if you will let it, to more enjoyment of your hobby. Your contribution could trigger latent interests that would shake a collector from his doldrums.

Your paper will be carefully considered by Editor Bradfield for possible publication in The Numismatist. If published, it will be evaluated by a committee and you could win the coveted Heath Literary Award!

We will keep prodding you, so go ahead, get started, beat us at our game.

NATIONAL COIN WEEK 1964

April 18 to 26

National Coin Week is less than five months away. It is important that a chairman be appointed now to handle local arrangements to make this event successful. All that is required is a leader and plenty of teamwork. I will help in every way that I can. Please do not hesitate to write if you have questions.

Our theme this year is: "Numismatic Art."

This is a simple statement that can be used on every numismatic display. Look at the beautiful art on your favorite numismatic pieces. Plan now to let others see them during National Coin Week.

COUNTERFEITS OF U. S. AND OTHER COINS REPORTED

By

JOHN J. FORD, JR., AND DON TAXAY

(In collaboration with the Professional Numismatists Guild)

All rights reserved

THE combination of a greatly increased interest in numismatics and rapid advances in the techniques of unauthorized coin manufacture has resulted in a trickle of counterfeit coins which is rapidly turning into a flood. Most of this material is directly aimed at the coin market in the United States, which, with its extreme emphasis on modern "key" coins, profit motivation, and a basic lack of real numismatic knowledge, is almost made to order.

This situation commenced about 1956, when the late Charles Green sent to one of the writers a die struck replica of the rare 1921 double eagle. Subsequently, clever cast copies of a large number of U. S. gold coins appeared. Among the first of these were the notorious 1851-O, 1854 run of small size gold dollar counterfeits, which appeared almost exactly four years ago. They were reported on these pages in the March, 1960 issue. The result of that article was the apprehension, trial and conviction of the notorious distributor of the fake gold dollars. Other false U. S. gold coins have appeared, from large size gold dollars to double eagles. Almost all have been casts, of varying degrees of quality. Many of them, and a larger number of modern fakes of foreign coins, are listed in the recent publication on counterfeit gold coin by Dieffenbacher Coin, Ltd., Montreal, Canada.

While the influx of false gold coin continues, in spite of the restrictions placed upon importation by the Treasury Department, a new threat appeared last summer when so-called spark erosion die counterfeits of rare Lincoln cents appeared. These coins were not made from electro-erosive metalworking techniques (as applied to die sinking), but by a potentially more dangerous process, that of impact dies. This is also a method by which dies can be made directly from a coin, and, as some of the cents described below suggest, the possibilities of this process are most interesting. One type of impact die is that made by electro-magnetic forming; another, is the explosive impact process. Both, as well as spark erosion, can produce clever dies which can in turn be used to strike deceptive coins. However, all such counterfeits possess certain definite characteristics. It is our feeling that collectors and dealers should be made familiar with the fakes as they appear.

It has been unfortunately noted that in some instances, old (not contemporary) counterfeit coins, struck from dies, have been offered and sold. These too should be reported, particularly if they are unpublished. Even imitation and fantasy pioneer and assay ingots, of both gold and silver, have made their appearance, as have also false foreign silver coins. It is imperative that anyone interested in anything moderately rare and expensive in numismatics, should familiarize himself with counterfeits being introduced and the methods necessary for detection. If you feel that you cannot know your coins, then by all means know your dealer. Any counterfeit U. S. coin, in any metal, is illegal to possess, and should be turned in to the Secret Service. Arrangements are being made, with Washington, to have numismatic counterfeits reported by the Treasury Department, through hobby and trade channels. It has been decided, by all concerned, that these pages constitute a proper and permanent vehicle for a record of the counterfeits that plague us, and to that end the cooperation of all involved in our hobby is earnestly solicited.

No. GD-1 Date: 1853 Denomination: Gold dollar.

Weight: 26.25 grains (Genuine, 25.8 grains).

Metal: Light yellow, almost "green" gold (indicating high silver alloy).

Planchet: Coin is slightly wider than genuine.

Edge: Reeded. Basically, the edge is much wider than on genuine coins. The reeding is the result of the use of a collar. Qualitywise, it appears excellent, and is probably the most deceptive element on the coin.

Method of Manufacture: Struck, from hand engraved dies.

Characteristics: Obv. Liberty head is much too large, and the bust point intersects the circumference of the stars. The stars are also too large and their rays do not converge.

Rev. The letters are much larger than on the genuine coins, and they have been hand cut, not punched, into the die. The ribbon ends in a double bow instead of a single one. Obvious reverse rim break opposite UN of UNITED.

Source: Collection of the late R. Schermerhorn, Dallas, Texas (1957).

Remarks: This is a coin hardly likely to deceive. The most cursory examination discloses many differences. We only know of the specimen described, although others should exist. It was originally thought to be a pattern, which it most certainly is not. The fabric suggests that it is an old counterfeit or replica, certainly not made for collectors. The execution of the dies, the color of the gold, and the general appearance suggests that it might be a California issue, struck prior to the Civil War, as a domestic substitute for U. S. small denomination gold coin.

No. BD-1 Date: 1901-S Denomination: Dime.

Weight: 40 grains (Genuine, 38.58 grains).

Metal: Silver.

Planchet: The rim does not have its proper upset, and appears almost serrated as a result of the artificial reeding.

Edge: Slightly narrower than normal because the planchet was not milled or upset. The reeding is prism-shaped, regularly spaced, but not the result of a collar.

Method of Manufacture: Struck, from dies fabricated by an impact process.

Characteristics: Obv. There are minor signs of buckling around the head, and a slight doubling of the rear outline of the head, both apparently due to die failure during the hubbing. The truncation of the bust has been hand finished, giving it a more curved appearance. The designer's initial is sharp. There is a die dot to the left of the I in AMERICA.

Rev. There is a die break connecting the end of the right stem of the bow to the lowest leaf.

Source: San Francisco, Calif., area.

Remarks: The original coin from which this die was made was no better than very fine, and the relief of this counterfeit is, of course, no sharper, although it has been polished bright on both sides.

No. LC-1 Date: 1909-S VDB Denomination: Cent.

Weight: 47.8 grains (Genuine, 48 grains).

Metal: Copper or bronze. The coin has a brilliant, golden-red appearance, like that normally seen on mint state 1909-S VDB cents.

Planchet: The upsetting is normal on both sides. The planchet is extremely deceptive in every way.

Edge: Very deceptive in regard to both contour and texture. The color, however, is as bright and lustrous as on the face, which should attract attention, though this feature may not be constant on all specimens.

Method of Manufacture: Struck, from dies fabricated, in almost all of their details, from a genuine coin. Since an obverse hub was utilized, the date and mintmark were added to the working die. Multi-impact processes were presumably involved, as the date, though added to the die by a punch, is an almost perfect facsimile of the genuine.

Characteristics: Obv. Date is boldly double punched to the upper right. The mintmark is also doubled, but to the lower right. This doubling is only to be found at the date and mintmark, and is not known to occur on any of the genuine obverses of this issue. The "S" mintmark is very softly punched and irregularly shaped, especially in its upper curve. It is larger than the genuine "S", and has a marked serif at the bottom. There are two angular lines, shaped like an inverted V, on either side of the mintmark, from the outline of a punch. There is another such line to the right of the 9.

Rev. The V.D.B. has three periods, but the letters are flatly struck up.

Source: California dealer.

Remarks: The bold doubling of the date and mintmark alone would indicate that these two elements were punched separately into the die, despite the fact that the former is virtually flawless in its execution. This could have been done by making a hub, and grinding down the date and mintmark before sinking the working die. The procedures involved in such an operation, using impact die manufacturing methods, are highly involved. This cent is decidedly dangerous, being quite deceptive unless the date and mintmark area are noticed. The surfaces and color are excellent.

No. LC-2 Date: 1909-S VDB Denomination: Cent.

Weight: 47.2 grains (Genuine, 48 grains).

Metal: Copper or bronze. The coin has a faded mint color, fully consistent with its dull uncirculated condition.

Planchet: Upsetting normal on both sides. Extremely deceptive, similar to the preceding.

Edge: Extremely deceptive. It was evidently left brilliant like that of the preceding, but it has tarnished somewhat.

Method of Manufacture: Struck, undoubtedly from dies manufactured by an impact process. Same as LC-1, and presumably by the same individuals.

Characteristics: Obv. Date is doubled above, the first punching being too high. All numerals show the doubling clearly, which is not the case on LC-1 (where the second set of numerals are only quickly discernible at 90). The doubling of the mintmark is close, and hard to notice quickly. The doubling of the S, such as it is, is to the upper right. The S mintmark is from the same punch as was used on the preceding (LC-1), but it is more boldly impressed here. There are no distinct lines, this time, from the outline of a punch, but it may be that they were polished off the die, as the coin appears to be sunken in the area of the date and mintmark. A striation runs diagonally from below the tie, through the chin, and into the R of TRUST.

Rev. There are no periods in the VDB. There is a die crack from the lower right serif of N in UNITED through the wheat leaf and into the rim.

Source: California dealer.

Remarks: The fields of this counterfeit show undulations, characteristic of coins made from impact dies. The prototype from which this coin was made was not uncirculated, as there is far less detail in the hair than one would expect from a mint state example so sharply struck up in other areas. Under a glass, the mint luster displays a crystalline structure altogether unlike that found on genuine uncirculated, or about unc. coins. The lustre, upon careful examination, appears as a roughness. It resembles the color of the Crosby electro "rare date" half cents, 1831-52, which was a chemical application. This is only a fair fake, in comparison with LC-1, but it would probably fool anyone who examined it hurriedly.

No. LC-3 Date: 1909-S VDB Denomination: Cent.

Weight: 50.1 grains (Genuine, 48 grains)

Metal: Copper or bronze. The coin has a chestnut-brown color, not uncommon to slightly used Lincoln cents.

Planchet: Upsetting normal on both sides. Very deceptive.

Edge: Appears normal; extremely deceptive.

Method of Manufacture: Struck, from dies fabricated by an impact process.

Characteristics: Obv. Date and mintmark show none of the obvious doubling found on LC-1 and LC-2. However, the date, and, to a lesser degree, the mintmark, show what looks like slight die recutting, although this could be very faint (i.e. slight) doubling. The S mintmark is from the same punch as used on the two aforementioned similar counterfeits, that is, it is too large, irregularly shaped, and has a marked serif at the bottom. As with LC-1, the photo indicates how weakly impressed the mintmark is. The area around the date and mint letter is noticeably sunken, and the effect covers a larger area of the coin than on the preceding.

Rev. The V.D.B. has three periods, but the letters and the periods are more boldly struck up than on LC-1. There is a slight convexity opposite the area of the date and mintmark.

Source: California dealer.

Remarks: At first glance, this coin presents the appearance of a clean (a too clean) very fine, in spite of a few simulated bag marks. The peculiar unevenness of the fields, or undulations, are a quick means of detection. They are most obvious when the coin is tilted slowly. Only moderately deceptive.

Florin. This coin was so named from its having been first coined at Florence. The first English florin was issued by Edward III. Its value was six shillings. The modern English florin, or two shilling piece, was issued in 1849. . . . They were withdrawn because the letters F. D. ("Defender of the Faith") were omitted from the Queen's title. Richard Lalor Shiel, a Catholic, was Master of the Mint at the time, and it was said that the letters were omitted by his private directions. Whether this was so will probably never be publicly known. — Dictionary of Words, Facts and Phrases, 1881

LIBERIA. There have been many patterns made for Liberia and thirty-seven pieces are described by Ernst Kraus in The Numismatic Scrapbook of September, 1941, pp. 461-467. Very little is known of the origin of these coins. Inquiries solicited from Monrovia thus far have proved fruitless. However, the 1890 series is so similar in style to the other apocryphal coins of this period that the writer assumes the responsibility of including these in the series. Although the die work is of a high level and almost reminds one of the U. S. pattern output of the Barbers, père et fils, they were not made at the U. S. mint. The 1889 series are not included merely because D. F. Howorth did not label them as private ventures while he did so on the 1890 coins.

LUNDY ISLAND. Purchased by Martin Coles Harman, a London financier, in 1927, Lundy Island lies at the mouth of the Bristol Channel. Its three mile length claims a population of about forty-five inhabitants. Claiming sole sovereignty over the island, Harman issued these coins in 1929, but shortly was taken into court where the British government fined him a small sum for violation of the coinage laws. He died in 1954.

NOTES ON EAST ASIAN NUMISMATICS

Emergency Currency of Tientsin

By

H. F. BOWKER

A correspondent residing in Australia, formerly a resident of Tientsin, China, has presented an interesting specimen of an emergency issue of local

British Municipal Council's 10¢ note notes issued by the British Municipal Council of Tientsin in 1939. This issue of fractional currency appears to be the first time in the history of China a foreign controlled municipal government in one of the Chinese Treaty Ports issued its own temporary currency.

During the flood which occurred in August, 1939, business in Tientsin came to a virtual standstill. The failure of normal communications with places outside the city resulted in an acute shortage of small denomination banknotes. On the first of September notes of three denominations were issued by the Tientsin British Municipal Council to relieve the situation. This currency was very short-lived, being in circulation for about ten days only, and was redeemed after normal communications were restored.

Obverse English Inscription		Reverse Chinese Inscription
1. 10-cents	green and black	1-chao	green and black
2. 20-cents	red and black	2-chao	red and black
3. 50-cents	orange and black	5-chao	orange and black

The figures and characters of denomination only and the serial numbers appear in black. The Chinese reverse is a transliteration of the English obverse.

Similar emergency currency had previously been privately issued in Shanghai and other cities of Chekiang and Kiangsu provinces in 1937.

Obituaries

ARTHUR B. KELLEY, A.N.A. NO. 5543

Arthur B. Kelley, 70, passed away in a St. Louis, Mo., hospital on November 18, 1963. Services were held in Our Lady of Lourdes Church, and interment was in Resurrection Cemetery.

Mr. Kelley was a native of St. Louis, having been born there September 2, 1893, and operated his coin business there for the last twenty-five years. He was quite interested in the hobby from an organizational standpoint after becoming an A.N.A. member in 1936. Three years later he took an active part in organizing the Central States Numismatic Society and the Missouri Numismatic Society, serving as the first President of C.S.N.S. He was a Fellow of the American Numismatic Society, and held membership in a number of local clubs. As a dealer, he was one of the charter members of the Professional Numismatists Guild. "Art," as he was known to a host of friends, was a popular figure at very many numismatic conventions during the last quarter century.

Besides his widow, Lee, who is a ten-year A.N.A. member, Mr. Kelley is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Jack Wichmann of St. Louis and Mrs. John Adams of Ardmore, Okla. Also there are seven grandchildren. — GBS

PHILIP H. WARD, JR., A.N.A. NO. 5704

Philip H. Ward, Jr., 76, died at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia, on August 23, 1963. An electrical engineer, he was president of Ward Electric Co. in Philadelphia at the time of his retirement several years ago.

Although Mr. Ward had been a member of A.N.A. since late 1936, his primary hobby interest was philatelic. At an early age he started an autograph collection which developed into one of the world's finest assemblages of Presidential letters and American historical papers. At the turn of the century his collecting gained impetus when he received a reply to his request for an autograph from former President Grover Cleveland. His collection of "franked" envelopes and American stamps was considered outstanding.

Mr. Ward was born in Washington and graduated from George Washington University. He was a charter member and past President of the Electrical Association of Philadelphia, a director of Franklin Institute, and a member of several service clubs. Surviving are his widow, Ruth; one son, Philip H. Ward, 3rd; two daughters; six grandchildren; and two brothers.

Fifty million new $1.00 Federal Reserve notes, replacing a like number of Silver Certificates, have been placed in circulation. Designs of the two pieces of paper money are very similar.

Numismatic Vignettes

■ We are advised to keep our valuables (including numismatic items) in a bank vault; to invest our funds wisely and safely; to protect life and limb by driving carefully; but what about the most valuable thing anyone can have — his good name? Only the individual can establish, or acquire, a good reputation and, once established, it is unlikely to be ruined by another. But how fragile it is to our own touch! Consider it constantly; guard it zealously; for not even life itself is of greater worth.

■ Changing times department. The Numismatist, March, 1939, A.N.A. member No. 4064 complained editorially that he couldn't get individual proof coins from the Mint. He had ordered a 1938 proof nickel and was advised that he could get it only in a complete set, price $1.89. Said he "Why should I be forced to buy a complete set for which I have no use?"

■ Who was the first counterfeiter of bank notes? According to an 1862 booklet by W. L. Ormsby, it was Richard William Vaughan, who produced twenty counterfeit notes of the Bank of England in 1758. Ormsby quotes Francis's History of the Bank of England in relating the story of "the initiative in a new line of wrongdoing." For having "startled London with his novel crime," Vaughan was hanged.

■ Like many others, we deplore some of the recent trends within the field of so-called coin collecting — bags, rolls, altered dates, copies and restrikes, and medals, medals, medals. Yet, there are encouraging signs. Consider the number of numismatic publications being sold and, presumably, read. One doesn't have to be very old in the hobby to remember when there were only a few books, which dealt with the classical series, U.S. coins and a very few others, and two monthly magazines. It is hardly necessary to comment on the present situation — even with high costs, enough collectors buy and subscribe to make many publications worthwhile. We would add only one suggestion to those who are true numismatists. There are many of the older books which are of great value, and which are quite scarce. Buy them when you get the chance, which isn't often. Reproduced here is "The Specie Clerk of the Union Bank," frontispiece in The Banks of New York, Their Dealers, the Clearing House, and the Panic of 1857, by J. S. Gibbons, published by D. Appleton & Co., New York, 1859.

■ The New York Clearing House began operation October 1, 1853 and was formally organized the following spring. Similar organizations were operating in Boston and Philadelphia when the Chicago Clearing House came into being on April 6, 1865. At the end of 1962 (a century later), there were 287 formal clearing houses in operation in the United States, according to Rand McNally's bank directory.

■ If you ask for rolls in a certain Chicago coin shop, Leonard Stark will tell you, "I have only two and they are not for sale." Hanging on the wall, wrapped in cellophane, are two "rolls" from a nearby bakery.

WERNER COLLECTION TO ISRAEL

The Louis S. Werner collection of gold, silver, copper and bronze coins, thirty-five years in formation, has arrived in Jerusalem and will be exhibited in Israel's Bible and Archeological Museum, scheduled for completion late in 1964 or early in 1965.

The collection, considered one of the largest and finest ever assembled by a private collector, contains hundreds of coins. The section of pure Jewish coins, virtually complete in all major varieties, covers the period from 138 B.C. to 135 A.D., an era of almost three hundred years. This section starts with the Maccabaeus, including the Hasmonaeans, the First Revolt of the Jews, the Second Revolt, and the complete series of Judea Captas struck in Jerusalem.

The collection is rich in the Colonial Palestine series, the Greek coins struck under various rulers, the imperial coinage of Galilee, Sepphoris-Diocaesare, Samaria-Caesarea, Neapolis, Judea, Aelia Capitolina, Ascalon, Gaza, Roman-Judea, the procurators, Palestine-Phoenician, Tyre, Sidon, the Celtic and Egyptian gold talents (ring money) dated to the period of Abraham, and fifty-five pieces of Roman-Judea captas struck in gold, silver and copper.

Of particular interest is the series covering the Second Revolt of the Jews, the small and medium sized bronzes, those of the vine leaf and palm tree, together with many unlisted dies of overstriking and a few coins with the archaic style of lettering. This section also contains the very scarce large size coppers of the Second Revolt, the amphora wreath type, with specimens in various sizes and weights from the dupondus to the double sestertius.

The silver coins of the First and Second Revolts, the shekels, half shekels, the denarius, and the large size shekels are very interesting, especially the denarius with unlisted overstriking. The most interesting of all these silver coins is a shekel of the Second Revolt, discovered in 1938 when Werner purchased the coin from a New York City coin dealer—neither the buyer nor the seller being aware of this item's great rarity. This shekel is struck with the obverse of Year 1, the reverse with Year 2. The late Edward T. Newell, President of the American Numismatic Society, examined the coin and pronounced it genuine and unique.

The Werner collection contains numerous coppers in various sizes and denominations from the Hasmonaeans, the Maccabaeus period, John Hyrcanus, Judas Aristobulus, Alexander Jannaeus, Antigonus Mattathias, and the Herodian dynasty. The collection of the procurators is virtually complete, with many unlisted varieties and many Roman governors.

The gold talents (ring money) are extremely rare, some of the world's larger museums lacking specimens in their cabinets. The silver tetradrachm of Ptolemy, struck for Ascalon, and two bronzes of the XII Legion are other outstanding coins in the Werner collection, now destined to go on public exhibition in a room of the museum named in honor of the donor.

Louis Werner, known throughout the numismatic world, was Sergeant-at-Arms of the American Numismatic Association for twenty-five years. He is a New York coin collector and dealer who began assembling and studying Jewish coins seriously at the suggestion of the late Edward T. Newell. In his pursuit of knowledge of the subject Werner acquired an imposing library and became acquainted with collectors and dealers in foreign lands as well as those in the United States. Although he received a six figure offer for the coins, he resolved to give the coins "back to Israel" as his memorial.

NOTES & QUERIES

Australia Decimals

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

I refer to the article on page 978 of the July issue of The Numismatist regarding the proposed introduction of a decimal currency in Australia.

It was stated that one cent will be worth one shilling two pence old currency. This is incorrect as one cent will be worth 1.2 pence. One shilling will be worth ten cents in the new money, therefore one shilling two pence will be worth about twelve cents. Incidentally, the name "royal" for the major unit of the new currency proved so unpopular and raised such a storm of protest that it was dropped by the Federal Government back in September. In its place the term "dollar" has been adopted and seems to enjoy popular approval. Newspaper polls showed that over eighty per cent of the Australian public supported "dollar" while only fourteen were in favor of "royal."

The new coin issue is to be minted at the Canberra Mint, at present under construction, it has been announced. It will consist of two bronze coins, one cent and two cents; three cupro-nickel coins, five cents (six pence), ten cents (one shilling) and twenty cents (two shillings); and one silver coin, fifty cents (five shillings). The two-cent piece is being introduced to replace the small silver three-pence coin which is worth two and a half cents; but some people have criticized the two-cent piece, saying that it is unnecessary. I wonder what Americans feel about this?

The first of the old coins to disappear in 1966 will be the half penny, penny and three pence which have no exact decimal equivalents. I feel that the six pence, one shilling and two shilling coins will also be withdrawn as quickly as possible because the Government is anxious to obtain this fifty per cent (ninety-two per cent in the case of the 1946 coins) silver content. One reason for the change-over is the high cost of minting large size bronze half pennies and pennies, plus the present range of silver coins, at the aging Royal Mints in Perth and Melbourne. Designs for the new coins have yet to be announced. Originally under the proposed royal-cent system, the ten cent, twenty cent and fifty cent coins were to be called by their old names of shilling, florin and crown. However, this has been dropped along with the "royal," and the new coins will have their values in cents stamped upon them in numbers.

The new note issue has yet to be announced although it is likely that one-dollar, two-dollar, ten-dollar and twenty-dollar notes will be issued to replace the current ten-shilling, one-pound, five-pound and ten-pound notes. It is probable that Australia will follow the South African practice of retaining the old note designs and only printing new values on them.

Canadian Society of Medalllic Art Holds First Meeting

Following an exploratory meeting at the home of Miss Elizabeth Wyn Wood, R.C.A., S.S.C., last March, twenty-eight interested persons met on October 13 at the Chateau de Ramezay in Montreal to formalize the organization of the Canadian Society of Medalllic Art. Acting chairman Fred Bowman opened the meeting, at which the following officers were elected: President, Major Sheldon S. Carroll; Vice President, L. Maurice Lorraine; Secretary, Chris Faulkner; Treasurer, A. Munroe, and Directors, Mrs. K. Bunnett, E. Echenberg, A. E. H. Petrie, J. A. Ringuette, Msgr. V. Tremblay, P. D., and Joost R. Von Weiler. Fred Bowman was made Honorary President; Miss Elizabeth Wyn Wood, Honorary Vice President, and J. Douglas Ferguson, Honorary Vice President.

The stated aims of the new Society are to promote the study of the aesthetic, historic and scientific aspects of the medalllic arts of all countries and in all media; to stimulate research and identification; and to cultivate high standards in the design and manufacture of medals, medallions and tokens. Membership is open to any reputable person upon payment of $10, or $15 for a husband and wife. Those interested in membership may write to the Secretary at 25 Belton Road, Pointe Claire, Quebec, Canada.

William A. Pettit, Curator for the Rare Coin Company of America, Inc.,

will introduce a course on "Coins and Collecting" in the winter Learning for Living schedule of Central YMCA, 19 South LaSalle St., Chicago, Ill. His course will meet on ten Wednesday evenings, starting January 22. Historian and professional numismatist, Pettit has designed the course for beginner and for the moderate collector. He will cover the history of the field, coin condition, grading, display, investment and speculation in coins. Both foreign and domestic coins will be considered.

Stamps As Money

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

I read with great interest Robert D. Leonard, Jr.'s article about "stamps as money" on pages 1497 of The Numismatist. He only mentions a doubtful Bánat issue of 1919 of Hungary.

I specialize in Hungarian coins, medals, tokens and currency and have been a collector of these for over sixty years, (A.N.A. 6647). My collection is the largest outside the Iron Curtain.

I have three specimens of Hungarian World War I "stamp money." Printed on heavy paper 1 x 1½ inches a six and eight fillér, bronze color and a ten fillér, nickel color, issued by the Hungarian War Aid Office for the widow's and orphan's fund, dated Oct., 1916.

On the back it states that these stamps can be cashed in, if requested, during the war at the War Aid Office in sum of one korona. — CHARLES Z. MIHALYI

Old Italian large size notes, called "bed sheets" by the natives, are being replaced by smaller currency. The old ten thousand lire bill was ten inches by five, but its replacement is six inches by three. A smaller thousand lire note has also been issued.

BOOK REVIEWS

A Guide Book of United States Fractional Currency* by Matt H. Rothert, Whitman Publishing Co., Racine, Wis., 1963, 84 pp., limp covers, illus., $1.00.

This newest addition to the Whitman numismatic reference series covers the entire series of fractional paper money of this country in a most informative and readable manner. Parts I and II (21 pages) cover the introduction to the series and its history, giving much useful information on grading, specimen notes, how the series came into being, its production, engravers, quantities issued, etc. All of this is of interest to the collector and non collector alike.

Part III, the catalog, will be the most used by collectors since it describes the notes by issue, denomination and variety, and prices each in very good, fine, very fine and new (not unc., as in coins) conditions. Not being up to date in this series, we checked a number of "new" prices at random against those in a prominent dealer's advertisement of about six months ago. The relatively common notes were priced very nearly the same in the book and in the advertisement, but Rothert's prices are somewhat higher for the scarcer ones. On the average, the dealer offered the thirty-seven notes compared at about twenty-five per cent below the new book prices. This seems reasonable, as it is common practice to project rising market prices somewhat in a catalog so that its prices won't be out of date so soon.

The final twenty pages of the book are devoted to experimental, error and essay notes; strips, blocks, sheets, shields, counterfeits, bibliography and index. One factor which bespeaks Matt Rothert's knowledge and qualification to be the author of this work is the statement that all illustrations of "regular issue notes were made from those in the author's collection."

Such works, while not in the monumental class, add to the betterment and advancement of the hobby. This book covers a series in which increasing interest is being shown, and fills a gap by supplying complete information on it in a single, low priced book. Surely it is worth more than the $1.00 price to collectors of the series and of paper money in general, and also to those who just enjoy learning about the monetary history of our country. — GLENN S.

Coins in China's History* by Arthur Braddan Coole, 3rd edition, November, 1963, Inter-Collegiate Press, Inc., Mission, Kans., viii, 159 pp., illus., 9"x12", $8.00.

Collectors of the coins of China desiring copies of A. B. Coole's Coins in China's History, which has been out of print for twenty-five years, will no longer have to pay premium prices. A third edition has been published by the author which contains all the matter of the earlier editions plus highly interesting additional matter, and some corrections which have been made necessary by further research.

The cycle of the author's national colors has been completed (red, blue, and white) by the attractive white Litho Book cloth cover embellished by a large colored picture of China's Hall of Prayer for the (New) Year, the Ch'i Nien Tien, in Peiping, and an eight character title of the book in red ancient seal characters.

The historical chart in colors which graphically indicates the many dynasties of China's long history in a unique manner is included, as well as the many other charts which enable the collector with a limited knowledge of the Chinese language to attribute accurately his coins to the proper era.

A new feature is the enlarging of the obverses of some of the coins pictured in the interest of clarity. Also an attempt has been made to separate the medallions from the actual coins by placing a large black dot between the obverses and reverses of some of them, but a number of the fantasies and outright counterfeits are unfortunately not indicated. — H. F. BOWKER.

Ghana will change to the decimal system the first Monday after the Day of the Republic (July 1) in 1965, according to Perera's Foreign Exchange News. The new monetary unit will be called the "cedi" divided into a hundred sub-units called "pesewa." The value of one pesewa will be one penny of the present currency. The value of the cedi, therefore, will be eight shillings four pence.

A NEW WORK ON SWEDISH BANK NOTES, PART I

Recently the well known expert on paper money, A. Platbärzdis, Stockholm, published the first volume in a planned series of three, treating Swedish paper money. The title of this handbook is: Sveriges sedlar 1661-1961. The first volume lists and illustrates all the banknotes issued by Stockholm's Banco (1661-1667, the first genuine European paper money) and by Sveriges Riksbank or, as it was originally called, Sveriges Rikes Ständers Bank (The Bank of the Estates of the Realm), from 1701 to the present.

The book has explanations and summary in English, besides a valuation of all types in Swedish crowns made by the publisher, Sven Flodberg, Lund, Stockholm's Banco hundred daler note, 1666.

Sweden. The banknotes from 1661-1667 are extremely rare (no specimen from 1661 being known, and only four denominations from 1666 valued, since the others are represented in museums only). The prices are between seven hundred and one thousand Sw. crs., and would probably be higher if more collected outside Sweden.

The work of Platbärzdis has been longed for. It will now replace the works by H. Bukowski and Hildebrand-Montelius as regards government banknotes. The following volumes, which treat the paper money issued by the National Debt Office, private banks, etc., are probably to appear shortly.

Price of the book: 36 Sw. crs., bound. — LARS O. LAGERQVIST, Curator of Education, Central Office and Museum of Antiquities, Stockholm, Sweden

Italy will soon issue new 10,000 and 1,000 lire bank notes. They will be smaller in size than the present ones. Perera's Foreign Exchange News says the new brown-reddish 10,000 lire note will feature a portrait of Michelangelo with a watermark the head of his famous David statue. The 1,000 lire note will be blue-violet with a portrait of Giuseppe Verdi; its watermark will be the head of Apollo.

The A.N.A. and Its Committees

Would you like to help the A.N.A.? The control of our Association is vested in a board of not less than five Governors, as provided by the Federal Charter under which the A.N.A. operates. Our bylaws provide for a board of nine Governors, three of whom are the President, First Vice President and Second Vice President.

While this Board of Governors is responsible for the management of A.N.A., it does not do all of the work, by any means. Individual officers and members, usually acting as appointed committees, carry on most of the work, study and investigations which supply the basis for board actions. It is not feasible, obviously, to appoint each of the Association's twenty-five thousand members to a committee; yet, in the words of founder George F. Heath, M.D., "Each member can do a little in contributing to its success."

It is the desire of the elected officers that members know of the various active committees, and that each member be invited — even urged — to communicate pertinent information and views to committees. Possibly your knowledge or ideas are just what a committee needs to further its assignment. Even if what you contribute is not new, merely expressing yourself to a committee has its value in indicating the wishes of the membership.

Most of the committees are headed by an officer whose address is published in each issue of The Numismatist. In writing to any of them, it would be best to confine your suggestions and comments to the activity assigned to the particular committee; to be constructive, concise and specific; and to give your mailing address and membership number. And keep in mind that President Anderson and I will be happy to receive suggestions on matters for which there is no committee.

At the July 31 meeting of the Pacific Coast Numismatic Society in San Francisco, Harmon C. Gardner, president of Josiassen Smelting and Refining Co., told the forty members and guests about San Francisco's "Own Gold Mine." He told us how silver, gold and other precious metals are reclaimed by his smelting company from photographic solutions, radio tubes and various waste products, and displayed samples of finished ingots of pure metals. Members made twelve exhibits.

Bill Ames spoke at the August 28 meeting on "U. S. Mints, Our Money Makers." Attendance was forty-nine members and guests, and there were sixteen exhibits.

With thirty-nine in attendance at the September 25 meeting, Kurt Lore spoke on ancient coins, particularly "Coins of the Bible." Based on the assumption that thirty pieces of silver received by Judas for betraying Christ were tetradrachms, and using the costs of soldiers' wages and other data from the Bible and other literature, Kurt estimated the value of the thirty pieces at about $1,800 in terms of today's purchasing power. Again this month there were sixteen exhibits.

The October 30 meeting was "Other Hobbies" night, and the thirty-nine members and guests had twenty exhibits covering a wide range of subjects. Among them were dolls, autographs, old books, spoons, stamps, rocks, old watches and early bank checks. — MAXINE BRYCE, Sec.

The always big-drawing Greensburg Coin Club show will be held again at the Mountain View Hotel in Greensburg, Penna., on April 18-19. Chairman Har-rold M. Boyd and Dale D. Porter have reserved all available space for the event. A fine array of exhibits has been guaranteed by area collectors, and a two-session auction will be held on April 17. Inquiries regarding the auction, exhibits or bourse tables should be directed to Dale D. Porter, 27 N. Maple Ave., Greensburg, Penna. — DALE D. PORTER

Leo M. Thomas will be chairman of the annual Mid-Winter show of the Ashland Stamp & Coin Club, to be held February 1-2 at the Terrace Motel in Ashland, Ohio. Bourse chairman will be Henry Tinker, Olive L. Edwards will handle the exhibits, Florence Bennighof the registration and Laura Thomas will have charge of social activities. — OLIVE L. EDWARDS, Sec.

The Elgin Coin Club held its second annual Coin-O-Rama on October 20 in the American Legion Home in Elgin, Illinois. A full day of activity was enjoyed by more than 800 visitors from Illinois and neighboring states, this being almost double last year's attendance. The feature of the exhibit to many was the noncompetitive display of obsolete Illinois bank notes and scrip, numbering about 350 pieces and displayed in twenty-seven cases. This is believed to be the largest such exhibit ever shown anywhere. Fred R. Marckhoff, a prominent Elgin collector of Illinois notes, and five other leading numismatists supplied the items shown. Competitive exhibits included a well rounded group of rare and intriguing coins, paper money and medals. Glenn Smedley, a former A.N.A. officer and now Assistant to the Editor of The Numismatist, served as exhibit judge. A husband and wife team took top honors, with best of show going to Gerda Birkholz for her fine collection of commemorative Washington medals; while A. R. Birkholz won the first award with an unusual display of trade coins of the world. Second place went to Bruno Rzepka for a superb exhibit of fractional currency and encased postage stamps. Elwood Scarritt of Elgin was third with an extensive collection of Mexican coins which covered more than 400 years of coinage, beginning with the first mint in the Americas at Mexico City. A spirited auction of U. S. and foreign coins, conducted by jovial Ralph Winquist of Rockford, enabled many visitors to add choice items to their collections. Twenty bourse tables offered a wide variety of numismatic material to the throng. A tasty chicken dinner and sandwiches were served chuck-wagon style from the American Legion kitchen. — CAROLINE M. CRICHTON, Sec.

The Clarion (Iowa) Coin Collectors held their second annual show in the I.O.O.F. Hall and gave many local people their first opportunity to see rare coins and paper money and bourse tables in action. Highlight of the show was the presentation of the Best-in-Show trophy to Gene Morris of Forest City for his outstanding currency exhibit. At its recent convention in Sioux City, the I.N.A. voted to offer this trophy to any Iowa club which holds a local show. President Don Jensen of Iowa Numismatic Association presented the award and said that it was the first such trophy to be given. Other exhibit winners were: U. S. coins — Harold Schaffer and Phil Nelson; gold coins — Don Jensen; foreign coins — Leland Knack and Danny Wiseman; paper money — Gene Morris and Gene Bright; medals — Danny Wiseman. Auction sessions were held Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon. Donald Watts of Clarion was general chairman of the very successful show.

The Greater Lakeland Coin Club has reserved May 1-3 for its annual show to be held at the Civic Center in Lakeland, Florida. — G. M. BYRNE, Sec.

The Newton Coin Club will hold its annual show on February 15-16 at the National Guard Armory, seven blocks west of the Santa Fe Depot in Newton, Kansas. Reservations for bourse tables at $15 each may be made to the Secretary at 125 Hemlock Lane in Newton. The public will be invited from 9 a.m. Saturday to 6 p.m. Sunday, without charge. — MRS. H. P. DICK, Sec.

The Fourth Mid-Winter Florida coin show will be held January 16-19 in the new Floridan Motor Hotel in Tampa. This is the largest numismatic event to be held on Florida's west coast, and is expected to attract many of those who will attend the east coast F U N convention January 9-12. There will be no admission or registration charge and, being widely advertised in the area, the show will draw many interested persons from Tampa and the surrounding towns. Bourse tables are being limited to one hundred at $40 for the four days. Room reservations should be made direct with the hotel, where rates are $8 to $9 for singles, $12 to $14 for double or twin, and $25 up for suites. Trophies and awards will be presented for the best displays, which will include a number of prize winning exhibits from all parts of the country and Canada. Managing Director is Harry O. Adams, 546 35th Avenue N.E., St. Petersburg, Fla., 33704.

Having the same chairman and committee members, and using the same location as at four previous semi-annual coin shows, the fifth such event staged by the Interstate Coin Club of Hagerstown seems assured of being Maryland's largest coin show. The dates are February 29 and March 1; the location is the Venice Motel and Restaurant a half mile east of Hagerstown on U. S. Route 40; and the general chairman is Paul E. Garling. All thirty-five bourse tables have been sold and will be occupied by dealers from seven states and twenty-five cities on the Eastern Seaboard. The Club maintains a perpetual waiting list in order of the date on which the request is received, and at present there are sixty-one dealers on this list. The only way that a table can be secured at an Interstate show is by writing to be placed on the list. When a vacancy occurs, it is filled from the top of the list. Obsolete bank notes of the Hagerstown Bank have been reprinted with an advertisement of the show on the back, and the Club's souvenir book will be published, including historical articles of numismatic interest, for free distribution to show guests. Nor does this Club spend all of its time on shows. At its October 19 meeting, members viewed the A.N.A. slides of Confederate Currency and also slides of scenes at our March, 1963, show. On November 14 our annual Fall Banquet was held at the Waachou Grange Hall, free to members. A family style dinner was served by the ladies of the Church of God of Clear Spring. Rev. Robert E. Timmons, pastor of the Church and a member of the Club, was responsible for the meal. This is a well fed club, as it holds a Spring and Fall banquet and a summer picnic, all without charge to its members. Visit our "end of February - first of March" show if you possibly can — see how we operate — we are sure you'll enjoy yourself and want to come again. — PAUL E. GARLING, Chm.

Dr. George Fuld of Akron was the guest speaker at the 505th meeting of Cleveland's Western Reserve Numismatic Club at the Statler Hilton Hotel on November 13. Dr. Fuld spoke on Washington and showed slides of many coins, medals and tokens in his collection, many of them being rare and seldom seen. We learned facts about Washington from this talk that we had not known before. Among the exhibitors were Dr. Sargis with silver marriage medals of Charles III and Louisa of Mexico, Charles V and Francis of Spain, and Norway's Christian VII and Carolina. Austin Lloyd and Ed Jacobs had interesting exhibits, and Steve Carosello, a young collector not old enough to join our Club, showed a pillow case depicting various buildings at the 1876 fair in Philadelphia. — FRED N. HAHLER, Sec.

The Muncie Coin and Stamp Club will hold its seventh annual open house at Ball State College Student Center in Muncie, Indiana, on January 26 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Those who attended the 1963 Indiana State Convention in this same location know how well suited it is, with a cafeteria, snack bar, seven lounges, large well-lighted display room and separate auction room. The fifty-two bourse tables have been sold, and many exhibits have been entered in the space reserved for forty coin and stamp displays. The afternoon auction will be conducted by Dave Hiser of Hamilton, Ohio. President Harry Shroyer is serving as General Chairman of the show, and believes that the excellent facilities, free admission, door prizes, an auction, and the enthusiasm of all concerned promise to make this the biggest and best the Club has ever produced. — ROBERT E. WILSON, Corr. Sec.

The pre-dawn twilight of English history was conjectured upon by W. W. Woodside, speaking on "Ancient British Coins," before the November 5 meeting of Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society. Using present day analogies, and illustrating points with ancient coins, he made this misty past a most interesting, lively, and intriguing period. Conjecture is sometimes necessary, he pointed out, because the native peoples from that distant past left us no written records. Therefore, our knowledge is based largely on the writings of their conquering enemies, which are suspected of being somewhat biased, sketchy and incomplete. It is interesting that coins have done more than a little to fill in some of the gaps. In keeping with the theme of the evening, exhibits consisted for the most part of coins of Great Britain. Exhibitors included Duane Adams, Harry Bartley, Ray Byrne, William E. Courtney, Bob Hudson, Ed Oschman, Bob Porter, Dr. Sloss, Phil Williams and Bill Woodside, the speaker of the evening. — G. A. MOONEY, Sec.

The Ventura County Coin Club's third annual Coin-a-Rama, held on October 27 and attended by some 850 persons, was termed a success by visitors and dealers alike. Copies of the Club's monthly bulletin were presented to visitors. Display winners were: Best-of-Show, Gwen Sentis for her "Page Out of History"; second, R. B. Carter for his display titled "Education in Numismatic Counterfeits"; and third, "Queen Elizabeth" by Gwen Sentis. Four gold coins and a number of 1963 proof sets were given out during the day. A 130-lot auction was held during the afternoon. Walt Plagemann of Ventura, Calif., was the general chairman of the event. — EVELYN NEWMAN, Sec.

The Laurel Mountains Coin Club announces that it will sponsor the third Southwestern Pennsylvania coin show on May 16-17 at the Summit Hotel. This beautiful site is atop Mt. Summit, six miles east of Uniontown on Route 40.

Looking a long way ahead, the Beaumont Coin Club announces that its fourth annual show and display will be held September 19-20, 1964, and that the entire convention facilities of the Ridge-wood Motel in Beaumont, Texas, have been reserved for the event. At its 1963 show, a rule was put into effect limiting bourse tables to dealers who are A.N.A. members in good standing. Bourse Chairman Sid Levinson says that reservations will be accepted after January 15. Over 3,000 persons visited the 1963 show and saw four displays that won national recognition at the A.N.A. convention in Denver.

With many visitors coming into the area in the next several months, the Fort Lauderdale Coin Club invites all interested persons to attend its semi-monthly meetings. In addition to an auction which is held at both meetings, a business session is held the first Wednesday monthly. The other meeting is held the third Wednesday, both being at the Ft. Lauderdale Realtors Building on North Federal Highway. The recently elected officers are President Mel Jacobson, Vice President John Tiffany, Treasurer A. S. Millsaps, Secretary Dorothy Hughes and Sergeant-at-Arms Robert Skelly. At the November 6 meeting, Robert T. Smith showed an excellent color-sound movie entitled "Learning About Money" produced by the First National Bank of Hollywood with the approval of the U. S. Treasury Dept. The film deals with paper money and points out the intricacy and perfection of our paper currency. It stresses the fact that by close observation and knowledge of our notes we can detect even the best made counterfeits. In the auction, a small date 1960 proof set brought $46.

The Big Spring Coin Club has joined with the clubs in Abilene and Odessa in a drive to have Ed Valenta, of Abilene, nominated as District 3 governor of Texas Numismatic Association. Valenta was president of this Club in 1962, is a salesman and is well known to all of the clubs in District 3, which includes the West Texas area. This action was taken at the November 14 meeting, when fifty-one members and two guests heard a report of our October coin show. W. E. Wozencraft said the cooperation of the members, the community and, in particular, the Chamber of Commerce, made the second annual show exceptionally successful. Dan Kester gave a discussion of the Buffalo nickel, saying that James Earl Fraser was the designer and that he used three Indians as models. These were Chief Iron Tail of the Sioux, who furnished the chin; Chief Big Tree, now ninety-eight years old, from the Iroquois Tribe, the remainder of the face; and Chief Two Moons, also an Iroquois, who was the model for the initial designs. The Big Spring Herald carried a story and photo of Chief Big Tree on October 3. Designer Fraser, 1876-1953, was born in Winona, Minn., studied at the Chicago Art Institute and the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris where he won a prize for the best work by an American in 1898. In 1906 he became an instructor in the Art Students' League in New York, and in 1951 received the gold medal for sculpture from the National Institute and American Academy of Arts and Letters. His wife, Laura Gardin Fraser, a native of Chicago, was also a sculptor whose notable works include two portrait busts for the Hall of Fame and designs for coins and medals.

— LEE SANDERSON, Sec.

(Editor's note: In addition to several U. S. commemorative coins credited to Laura Gardin Fraser, the husband-wife team of James and Laura produced the designs for the Oregon Trail Memorial half dollar.)

For the November meeting of North Shore Coin Club, members were asked to bring a "pet" coin — not necessarily a rare or valuable piece, but one in which they had a special interest. Dr. Richard Buenger brought an 1858 pattern Indian head cent, and Holmquist showed his copy of an 1804 dollar. Curtis Brook told us of a 1924-D cent he found in an old family album, and Mrs. Reymer of some silver three-cent pieces. All in all, the idea turned up interesting results. Our meetings are held the third Monday evening at the Municipal Building in Northbrook, Illinois. — BRUCE GOODEN, Editor

Hotel Conroe, just a thirty minute drive from Houston on new Interstate Highway 45, will be the scene of the Conroe Coin Club's first money show on March 21-22. The Club's T.N.A. and A.N.A. representative, John S. Syphrett, will be general chairman of the event. In discussing the show, Syphrett said that the Club's primary purpose is to educate collectors and to help them become numismatists. Hotel reservations should be made well in advance of the event, directly with the Hotel Conroe, Conroe, Texas. Bourse dealers, who must meet T.N.A. requirements, may write to the Chairman at Willis, Texas, for reservations. — JOHN S. SYPHRETT, Chm.

With attendance limited to thirty by inclement weather, the Calgary Coin Association held its November 18 meeting in the Calgary Public Library. An informative talk on the coinage of Mexico was presented by Jim Mackenzie. After reference to the means of exchange used by the Aztec and Maya Indians, the story of Mexican money was traced from the time of the Spanish Invasion through the revolutions to the present day. Mackenzie's artistic and prize winning display of Mexican coins and paper money was used to illustrate his talk. A large contingent of our members visited the Edmonton Coin Club Coin-a-Rama held November 9 and were very successful with their displays. Bill Wolley-Dod took the best-in-show award with his Canadian coins, and David McRitchie came second in the same class. In the ancient and foreign class, Lawrence Hall and Murray Weston won first and second, while Jim L'Herauld took second in the medals and tokens class. — D. M. STEWART

Sixty-five members and guests of the Forty-Niner Coin Club heard guest speaker Bob Gamble give a comprehensive talk on paper money at the 81st meeting on November 13 at the Recreation Center in Lynwood, Calif. Bob touched on the pre-Civil War bank notes, fractional currency, the original large size U. S. notes, and today's paper money. He said that Lincoln was the first President to appear on U. S. paper money; spoke of the three Educational notes as being the most artistic of all we ever produced; and of how difficult and expensive it would be to form a complete collection of our historically important notes. He told us about the engraving and means taken to prevent counterfeiting, and of the special series which were issued for use during the African invasion and in Japanese held regions of the Pacific during World War II. According to Bob, several engravers work on each note plate and minor defects, which might be called errors, are put in designs to confuse and thwart counterfeiters. His talk was augmented by an extensive display of various kinds of paper currency. Winners among the exhibitors were Mel Kohl with "Type Sets of Mexico," Ted Kressner — "Coins of Mexico," and Ann Hall — "Believe It or Not." Visitors are always welcomed to our second Wednesday of the month meetings. — LILA M. BARRETT, Sec.

The entire second floor of the Rice Hotel in Houston has been reserved for this event. As usual, there will be a bourse, exhibits, auction, ladies' activities and the Sunday awards buffet breakfast. Ed Smith, I., Awards Breakfast Chairman, and Arnold Romberg, Exhibits Chairman, consider but reject the usual trophy for the Houston annual Money Show. They have different ideas.

Chris Johns. The exhibit awards will be unusual, according to Exhibit Chairman Arnold Romberg. Norm Smith is designing them and is guarding the product as if it was classified information. You will have to attend the awards breakfast for the unveiling. Why not enter an exhibit to be in the running — you'll be glad you did. Interesting plans for the breakfast, say Ed and Dorrie Smith, include a short talk by Chet Krause of Numismatic News fame. Our advice is to attend this show if possible, as it will be our "dress rehearsal" for the 1965 A.N.A. Convention. — DORIS MARTIN, Publ. Chm.

The report of the first annual coin show of the Mountaineer Coin Club was read and approved at the November 3 meeting. According to reports from bourse dealers and others who took part, the show can be considered completely successful. Junior member Brenda Dunn, Randolph Zander, a long time member of Washington Numismatic Society and an authority on Russian coinage, was speaker at the November 11 meeting of the Society in St. Columba's Hall in Washington, D. C. He covered the period from the earliest struck coins by the Greek colonies on the Black Sea to the current Soviet issues. The Russians have been great experimenters in the use of metals, styles, restrikes and overstrikes. Many of their trials turned out to be failures, but they kept on trying. The many Russian commemorative coins and military medals make for an interesting collection. The members provided a number of stimulating exhibits. — MAE L. CLARKE, Sec.

Davis and Gerardo Diaz Romeu; miscellaneous and specialized — Floyd Swartzbaugh, Sr.; junior class — Steve Cohen, Floyd Swartzbaugh, Jr., and Bennett and Lampson. Noncompetitive exhibits were entered by Jimmy Hayes and F. J. McMillan.

President Jack Kelly expects that the two hundred and twenty-one members of this largest coin club in Western Pennsylvania will hold the biggest show of the year in the district. It is an industrial district next to Duquesne and surrounded by West Mifflin, Homestead, Braddock and Glassport, with Pittsburgh only eight miles away. Bourse Chairman Clyde "Red" Mervis, who has operated successful coin shows in the past, has thirty-five tables available to dealers. Exhibit Chairman Herbert Rike already has a variety of exhibits lined up for the event. Among them are the famous gold collection owned by Irving Moscovitz of Detroit, which will be a treat to collectors and the public alike in this area. Even though there will be no admission charge, the General Chairman states that more than $400 in prizes, mostly gold coins, will be given away. Dealers and exhibitors may contact him at P. O. Box 8335, Pittsburgh, Penna. 15218, for further information and reservations. — GEORGE W. DUNAY, JR., Chm.

One of the features of the Seventh West Suburban coin show on November 3 was the Panamanian exhibit arranged by Paul and Lois Otis, members from Homewood. It was a happy coincidence that the Oak Park Coin Club chose this date for its annual show, because it was the sixtieth anniversary of the Republic of Panama. Chicago Consul General of Panama Angela Munzo de Lew and nine other Panamanians visited the show in the Oak Park Arms Hotel for over two hours. While on the subject of distinguished visitors, we were very happy to welcome Margo Russell of Coin World and her husband Marion, and the officers of Central States Numismatic Society who held a board meeting in connection with the show. We were particularly pleased to see President "Doc" Epps, who has been out of circulation for some time because of eye surgery.

The free registration and distribution of our handsome souvenir program proved an attendance of over 1,500 during the day. Educational features included two showings of Medallist Art Company's film "Let's Take a Trip," and an exhibit of counterfeit paper money loaned by the Continental Bank in Chicago. Competitive exhibit awards went to these members: Gerda Birkholz — medals and tokens, and best in show; Don Doswell — U. S. coins; Bruno Rzepka — paper money; Dennis Anderson — all gold; Larry Brueck — topical; Harry Flower — miscellaneous; and Wayne Harris — junior class. A hundred-lot auction in the afternoon was highlighted by an unc. 1907 Roman numeral Saint Gaudens double eagle, which changed hands at $650. The limited bourse of twenty-five dealers, including Sidney Smith of Miami, Fla., was crowded most of the day, and many of them reported active business. The successful and gratifying event was directed by co-chairmen A. R. Birkholz and Jim Grebinger, and by Club President Fred I. Catalano. — MIMI GREBINGER, Editor, The Proof

The Regina Coin Club held its October 25 meeting at the Saskatchewan House with thirty-three members enjoying an evening devoted to foreign coins. Displays of Australian and New Zealand type sets illustrated that a change from the Canadian decimal series can be refreshing. Members explained how type sets of foreign coins can be started with little initial outlay. A contest was held to identify foreign coins, with coins in numbered holders passed around the group. This activity was well appreciated and provided an interesting test of members' knowledge. Even though reasonably difficult, it resulted in a three-way tie which was broken with a second round of coins. The first place award of a 1961 prooflike dollar went to N. Parker, with second and third places going to M. Kinney and T. J. Hardie. The balance of the evening was devoted to an auction and trading, with many members expressing a desire for trading sessions at future meetings. — B. A. RENWICK

The November 21 meeting of the Ancient City Coin Club was held at the Catholic Daughter Home in St. Augustine, Fla., with President Isabelle Sputo presiding. Guest speaker Irving Drysdale, Chairman of the 400th Anniversary Committee, discussed the medallion that is to be issued. He stated that the Medallie Art Company of New York has secured the well known Spanish sculptor Engique Manjo to do the art work, and that he will show the preliminary design to the members soon. Refreshments and a swap-and-chat session concluded the meeting. — CHARLES D. COLEE, Sec.

The Ancient City Coin Club held its fourth annual banquet at Rusty's Restaurant in St. Augustine last October. The feature speaker of the event was Clark Hutchison, well known numismatist of New Smyrna Beach, who presented and spoke on an exhibit referred to as "A History of U. S. Coinage." His exhibit and talk traced our coinage from the early Spanish pieces of eight through various Colonial coins and government issues to date. He brought out many things of interest about our coinage, such as the origin of the phrase "two-bits," which refers to the cut quarter parts of the Spanish 8-reale coins. Since the smallest part of the dollar-size coin came to be known as a "bit," it followed that two-eighths or a quarter of the coin was "two bits" and a half was "four bits." Hutchison termed himself "a converted stamp collector," and said that he has been collecting coins about twelve years. In another highlight of the evening, plaques were presented to Past Presidents Pat Provenza and Charles Colee, and to President Mrs. Dominici Sputo. — CHARLES COLEE, Sec-Treas.

The Rush County Coin Club held a very successful show on September 1 at the American Legion Hall in Rushville, Indiana. Dealers reported a very brisk business, and the well-attended auction saw many interesting lots sold. Enthusiastic officers and cooperative members

A numismatic success story was related to thirty-eight members and eight guests at the October 26 meeting of Toronto Coin Club when Inspector R.J.P. Hather described how, as a newspaper boy on the streets of Toronto, he cherished with pride his first numismatic find — an 1821 English penny. Since that time his interest in the unusual has led him to acquire an outstanding collection of rare pieces. During military service in Europe he obtained a number of ancient Greek and Roman coins, as well as some English coins of historic interest. The display of items from his broad collection was highly impressive, and included English "Touch Pieces" — coins touched by the King (17th century) and supposedly capable of curing the disease known as "King's Evil"; a tribute penny; "puffin" coins from the privately owned Lundy Island; extremely rare card money from 1730 — only three of this particular kind being known; Indian Chief medals; and Confederation medals of 1867. It was a meeting to be remembered well. — FRANCES DOANE, Editor

Six gold coins will make up the three door prizes to be given away during the two days. Maximum security measures will be handled by police and plainclothes guards working around the clock. We urge everyone who can to attend, both adults and juniors. — E. G. KORNET, Publ. Chm.

The Searcy Coin Club was host to the annual meeting of Arkansas Numismatic Society on November 3, with a fine attendance from eight states. If proof of success lies in numbers and enthusiasm, we qualified. The new President, Mrs. Nina Willis, was in charge of activities, being the first woman to hold this office since the Society was organized fifteen years ago. She probably is the best informed lady in the state on coins and operation of the Society, having served three years as secretary, one as vice president, and owning an antique and coin shop in Little Rock. Dr. George Burton of El Dorado, auction committee chairman, revealed his plans to improve our auctions. Top exhibit honors were won by Mrs. Virginia Burkett with a Lincoln head cent exhibit; second going to Carl Lounsberry for his currency display. Two V.I.P.'s on hand to help President Pete Steck make the show a success were S. W. Freeman and Matt Rother of the A.N.A. Our annual show will be held at the Velda Rose Motel in Hot Springs on February 8-9, with the Tri Lake Coin Club as host. Tommy Brown, 225 Leonard, Hot Springs, will be in charge. — HAZEL LINDSTROM, Sec.

About a hundred coin collectors of the north Alabama area attended the annual banquet of the Muscle Shoals Coin Club on October 3 and heard George Todd of Atlanta, a governor of A.N.A., speak on various phases of the hobby. Todd urged collectors to learn more about coins than merely their value, and to join local coin clubs and other numismatic organizations. A number of exhibits were shown, with awards going to the following: first—Otis Brown; second—A. W. Beinlich; and third—Charles Palmer. New officers installed for the coming year included A. W. Beinlich, Jr., President; Vice Presidents, Dr. S. S. Norvell and D. A. Springer; Mrs. Mildred Hill, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Judy Mae Smith, Corresponding Secretary; and Mrs. Jane Riddle, Treasurer. Outgoing President Charles C. Anderson presided over the affair.

The Club's November 7 meeting was held in the Recreation Center in Florence, with new President A. W. Beinlich, Jr., presiding. Thomas E. Clark outlined the planned program for the ensuing year and urged members to make displays of coins which will be the topic of the meeting. Joel Anderson spoke on the grading of coins, and gave some fine pointers on how to store them. Several members reported having found some nice coins, including a 42 over 41 mercury dime, a 50-D nickel and an 1890 silver dollar with its reverse struck one-fourth off center. — MILDRED J. HILL, Rec. Sec.

The newly organized Mantua Terrace Coin Club of south Jersey held its first meeting in October and selected Fred F. Miller to be its first president. John R. Harris was chosen vice president; Jean E. Miller, secretary; and John Orde, Treasurer. The flying eagle was adopted as the Club's emblem. After this meeting, membership stood at thirty-five regulars and four juniors. Those interested in membership or information about the Club should write to the secretary at 67 West First Ave., Mantua Terrace, N. J., 08051. It is planned to hold meetings the first Saturday evening monthly in the Social Hall of the Mantua Fire Company on Union Street. We hope to make our meetings of varied activities and interesting to all. — JEAN E. MILLER, Sec.

Plans have been completed to pave the way for a "Festival of Coins" in Winona, Minn., on May 16-17. Sponsored by the Winona Coin Club, the event is expected to attract several dozen dealers and thousands of collectors from the upper Midwest. Displays and an auction of rare coins will highlight the Festival to be held in Hotel Winona. Orlane Kittle, vice president of the Club, is general chairman. All inquiries should be addressed to the Club at 225 West 2nd Street, Winona, Minn. — ROLAND W. FINNER, Sec.

... SEASON'S GREETINGS ...

A PIECE OF AMERICA

- The Octagonal $50.00 gold piece is famous as the money of the California Pioneers.
- Born of necessity, accepted at par, used extensively, discontinued reluctantly, the affectionately-called "slug"* represents the highest denomination coined in the United States even though at the time of issue, in 1851, the $50.00 gold piece was to be the lowest denomination of a series which would also include $100.00, $200.00, $500.00 and $1000.00 in coin or ingot form. However, no coins of the larger denominations were struck.
- Many of the "slugs" were melted down because the fineness ranged from 884 to 887 thousandths, the average fineness of California Gold, whereas the standard United States coinage was 900 thousandths fine, thus creating an obviously limited supply. Subsequent issues of round "slugs" give further evidence of this short supply.
- The Romantic (?) stories about how a couple of "octagons" knotted in a kerchief "slugged" successful prospectors into a temporary state of unconsciousness (sufficient to permit him to be relieved of his gold-dust) add color to the coin which is spread upon the pages of American History.
- A fortunate acquisition permits us to offer this octagonal PIECE OF AMERICA at varying prices, depending on the condition desired. The Historic coin minted in 1851 by Augustus Humbert, United States Assayer of Gold, San Francisco, California, is the 887 thousandths variety.

$1800.00

$2200.00

You may obtain one by acting promptly.

Get the thrill of owning a piece of America which, as you look at it, speaks of the Romantic History of the Days of '49.

(*Slug — not to be confused with the reference to fake coins. The $50.00 piece is an authentic gold coin.)

The Fantastic 1804 Dollar

by

Eric P. Newman and Kenneth E. Bressett

An exhaustive study of the 1804 dollar is now presented for the first time in this unique book. Every piece of information ever recorded about the "king of American coins" is cited, discussed and analyzed in this truly fantastic story.

In a very enjoyable style the authors try, not to implant their opinions, but to present all known facts and startling new discoveries, outline modern methods of numismatic investigation, and allow the reader to draw his own conclusions.

This thoroughly illustrated book has an attractive library binding with 144 pages printed on highest quality paper.

NUMISMATIC REVIEW

Number 5 and 6, 1963

Owing to the overall work pressures in Coin Galleries this Autumn, the final Numismatic Review for 1963 will be a combined issue. By way of compensation, however, there will be another edition early in 1964.

This issue of our increasingly well known publication contains a wide selection of fine Ancient Greek and Roman Coins, as well as some exceptional English pieces. But in accord with our usual practice, we have tried to include something for everybody.

The particularly choice and rare early Talers listed below will appear in the Review well illustrated on the Plates.

FIRST DOLLARS AND HALF-DOLLARS OF THE WORLD

1. TYROL. Archduke Sigismund. 1439-1496. Guldiner, 1484. Piefort, struck with dies of half Guldiner. Half length armored bust, wearing radiate coronet and holding scepter. Rv. # IN HIS MEMORY

"FOR THE FIRST TIME IN THE HISTORY OF THE NUMISMATIC WORLD, A PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES RECOGNIZES THE NUMISMATIC FIELD WITH A CAMPAIGN MEDAL FOR 1964"

"PRESIDENTIAL ART MEDALS, INC., OF ENGLEWOOD, OHIO, HAS BEEN SELECTED TO CREATE AND DISTRIBUTE THE KENNEDY CAMPAIGN MEDAL FOR 1964"

"PRESIDENT KENNEDY IS INVITED TO ATTEND THE AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION CONVENTION IN CLEVELAND, OHIO"

These headlines, destined to make history in 1964, will never be a part of our history. President John Fitzgerald Kennedy has been taken from this life by the bullet of an assassin. This nation has lost a great President; the Numismatic World has lost a great friend.

Presidential Art Medals, Inc., announces that the Kennedy Campaign Medal for 1964 will be offered as a Memorial Medal in tribute to this great President. The models have been completed by the renowned sculptor Ralph J. Menconi. The John Fitzgerald Kennedy Memorial Medal is offered to the Numismatic World in limited issue, as follows:

15,000 Serially numbered silver pieces at $15.00 each

Limited issue of bronze pieces at $5.00 each

This offering will not be continuous.

The John Fitzgerald Kennedy Memorial Medal will be offered in an attractive desk display holder with a memorial brochure describing the history of his life. This medal will be available on January 25, 1964.

The finely sculptured high relief artistic medal is approximately the size of a silver dollar. The obverse portrays a full view face of President Kennedy. Beneath his portrait, his terminal date 1917-1963, and the eternal flame, symbolic of his greatest act in public service, that of giving his life. The reverse portrays his public life in three phases: 1, PT Boat 109 and his Naval Officer's Insignia; 2, Seal of the State of Massachusetts, commemorating his service in the Senate; 3, Presidential Seal, commemorating the years in office as the 35th President of the United States. These portions are separated by an Oak leaf for strength, a Laurel leaf for eternity. This is the same medal President Kennedy would have used during his 1964 Campaign for the Presidential election. It is only fitting that this same medal be offered to the Numismatic World in memory of John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

COIN MEDALS . . .

The Magnificent Medals of Real Numismatic Interest

A series of beautifully sculptured, numismatically designed medals commemorating famous coin designers. The Augustus Saint-Gaudens and Victor D. Brenner medals, the first two in the COIN MEDALS series, are now ready for immediate shipment, and the Charles E. Barber medal will be ready in June.

COIN MEDALS are sculptured in very high relief on both obverse and reverse by master artist Robert Schabel, and quality struck by The Metal Arts Company of Rochester, New York. The obverse of every COIN MEDAL depicts the finest medallic work of the artist being commemorated, and the reverse, as shown above, symbolizes his work in coins.

COIN MEDALS are issued in bronze, and in a serially numbered pure silver issue not to exceed 5000. Each medal is three inches in diameter, and weighs close to a half-pound in silver, so they are not to be confused with ordinary coin size medals.

A Major breakthrough in coin investment!

International Numismatics Corporation introduces:

"The Option Investment"

Now, for the first time, you can invest in Coins with a fractional cash outlay, just as investors do in Commodities and Stocks. It's an extraordinary opportunity to take advantage of the rising coin market—realize a big profit on a small investment.

Unlimited Profit Potential, Limited Risk

Here's how "The Option Investment" works:

You buy an amount of coins and you pay only a minimum percentage of the total value in cash.

You now have the "option," for 6 months and 10 days, of taking over the complete transaction any time within this period. If the value rises (and that's definitely the trend) you can pick your time and make a profit.

Even though the value has risen you buy at the lower option price, and you can sell at the higher price. You have no responsibility beyond your cash investment.

Never before was there such an opportunity to realize unlimited capital gains in the coin market with a small, limited cash investment.

Take advantage of these excellent "Option Investments." (Ask for quotes on others.)

6 MONTHS AND 10 DAYS OPTION

- 1957 Proof Sets
Your Cash Investment, $1.00 per set. (Minimum order 100 sets)
Your Option to Purchase at $7.25 per set.
- 1959 D Pennies (hot item)
Your Cash Investment, $35 per bag.
Your Option to Purchase at $250.00 per bag.
- 19th Century Morgan Silver Dollars, Brilliant-Uncirculated.
Your Cash Investment, $165 per bag of 1000.
Your Option to Purchase at $1650 per bag.

70% CASH ADVANCE

THAT'S RIGHT ! ! ! ! We will advance 70% of the fair retail value of your collection immediately upon receipt. We will then sell your collection at one of our forthcoming auction sales and you will receive your final settlement within 30 days after the sale. Our commission rates are always reasonable.

During the time that your coins are in our possession they are stored in our protected and insured vaults. When you receive your advance check, if for any reason you are not satisfied with the amount of the check, just return it and your coins will be returned postpaid.

In many cases our advance will be almost equal to others offer of outright purchase.

If you are not currently on our mailing list, just drop us a post-card with your full name and address and we will place your name on our catalogue mailing list.

REMEMBER — It is not too late to have your collection included in our next outstanding auction sale.

Let One of AMERICA'S LEADING COIN BROKERS show you how you can RETIRE IN TEN YEARS WITH AN ANNUAL INCOME OF $10,000.00 FOR LIFE

This plan is especially designed for the person seeking an annual income for life by merely investing a total of $2,500 yearly for the next ten years. This plan suggests that the investor send in a monthly check of approximately $200 totaling $2,500 at end of each year. For each check the investor sends in (monthly or otherwise) the investor will receive from me a coin investment lot, equal to the amount of the check received. The investor keeps and holds the coins in his possession. He continues this system of investment for ten consecutive years, at which time he now has a total investment of $25,000. (What a wonderful way to save.)

NOW COMES THE REWARD

In 1973 the investor sells the coins he bought in 1963. In 1974 he sells the coins he bought in 1964. He therefore sells his coins each time they reach a ten year maturity. Each time he sells his coins for that year his investment should have a minimum value of $12,500 or five times his original investment capital ten years prior.

The investor can repeat this selling for a ten year period (1973-1982) realizing a profit of ten thousand dollars per year or a total of $100,000 for your total investment of $25,000 for the ten year period. However, if the investor wants this income to continue for life he merely reinvests the initial capital each year he sells. Viz. 1973 he sells $12,500, he reinvests his initial capital of $2,500. His income for that year is $10,000 yet he still maintains the same investment level each year.

EXAMPLE "TEN YEAR INVESTMENT PLAN FOR ANNUAL LIFE INCOME"

(Read Across)

INVEST:		SELL:		REINVEST:		PROFIT
1964	$2,500	1974	$12,500	1974	$2,500	1974	$10,000
1965	$2,500	1975	$12,500	1975	$2,500	1975	$10,000
1966	$2,500	1976	$12,500	1976	$2,500	1976	$10,000
1967	$2,500	1977	$12,500	1977	$2,500	1977	$10,000
1968	$2,500	1978	$12,500	1978	$2,500	1978	$10,000
1969	$2,500	1979	$12,500	1979	$2,500	1979	$10,000
1970	$2,500	1980	$12,500	1980	$2,500	1980	$10,000
1971	$2,500	1981	$12,500	1981	$2,500	1981	$10,000
1972	$2,500	1982	$12,500	1982	$2,500	1982	$10,000
1973	$2,500	1983	$12,500	1983	$2,500	1983	$10,000
Total Investment:		Total Value:		Total Reinvestment:		Total Profit:
$25,000		$125,000		$25,000		$100,000

By following the above plan you have now reached the year 1982. You have enjoyed a total income of $100,000 AND YOU STILL HAVE A REINVESTMENT STOCK OF $25,000 in 1982. You now repeat the same system by selling the amount you reinvested in 1973 which, again, according to statistics, should be valued at a minimum of five times as much.

The above plan is really very simple. You merely invest the first ten years only. After ten years your reinvestment comes from your coin stock not from your pocket. The profit realized from the sale of your coins each year becomes an annual income for life — yet maintaining the same level of stock. The investment figures of $2,500 a year is only used as an example. You may invest more or less as you see fit. A $5,000 yearly investment should give you a $20,000 yearly income, PLUS the reinvestment of the initial $5,000. Facts and figures do not lie.

(PLEASE NOTE: I have excellent Investment Coin Lots of $500.00, $1,000.00, $2,500.00, $5,000.00 and $10,000.00 for those who just care to invest in "LUMP SUM" amounts from time to time as they see fit.)

Following are actual examples of fabulous profits made by my PERSONAL Recommendations:

WHY THE NEED OF A COIN BROKER??

Although it is usually true that coins of low mintage steadily gain in price, and coins of high mintage seldom do, do you know why the very OPPOSITE of this statement is true in many cases?

Can you detect the coin that is rising in price of its own merit and not because it is being manipulated by greedy "promoters" and "pushers" for their personal gain? Can you detect an altered date? A counterfeit coin? Can you obtain latest "inside information" pertaining to coins? Have you the TIME and MONEY to search for the coins you want? Can you buy the RIGHT COIN at the RIGHT PRICE??? The above are only a FEW of the many situations confronting the investor. Unless you can answer ALL the above in the affirmative you DEFINITELY need the services of an EXPERIENCED BROKER!

After twenty-one years as coin collector, dealer, trader, investor and broker, I am in EXCELLENT POSITION to give you the answers, advice, service and counselling to the above questions and many, many more. As your COIN BROKER, let ME do your thinking . . . Let ME select your COIN INVESTMENTS, then just sit back and relax . . . watch your Investments GROW . . . and then . . . at the proper time . . . SELL your Investments and REAP YOUR RICH REWARDS from the SWEET FRUITS OF MY ZEALOUS LABORS!

IMPORTANT FACTS TO REMEMBER

The selections I send you are designed to give you MAXIMUM PROFITS in SHORTEST TIME. They will be sold to you at average retail prices. In many cases selections will be sent to you LOWER than prevailing market retail prices, depending on amount of Investment. I am prepared to accommodate you with Investment lots up to $100,000.00. You may reorder as often as you wish. ALL COINS GUARANTEED GENUINE. As my client you may sell me back same coins anytime you feel you have made a handsome profit, but this is not compulsory or necessary, as you are at liberty to sell to anyone at any time.

I have up-to-the-minute knowledge, source and diversified coin stock to serve you best. As soon as your check is received I will send you your coins with a carefully itemized list. If for any reason you are not satisfied with my selection you may return the coins at once and your check will be returned as soon as coins are received. However, no client yet has ever returned any selections. NO CLIENT HAS EVER SHOWN A SINGLE LOSS. I cannot SURVIVE unless you SUCCEED. YOUR SUCCESS IS MY SUCCESS! THERE ARE NO BROKERAGE FEES AT ANY TIME. I derive my fair margin of profit ONLY WHEN I SELL YOU COINS. As a coin dealer and COIN BROKER I can buy WHOLESALE and SELL RETAIL. Therefore, my profit costs you nothing.

Each and every time I send you coins after receipt of your check THE COINS ARE YOURS TO DO AS YOU PLEASE. YOU become the SOLE OWNER. I HAVE ABSOLUTELY NO CLAIMS ON THEM WHATSOEVER. You enjoy the possession of the coins you bought. You may sell at any time and to anyone you wish.

Since my profit is unusually small I must put a MINIMUM of $200.00 for coin INVESTMENT LOTS.

Upon receipt of each check it will be my conscientious duty and sincere desire to send you ONLY the HIGHEST COIN INVESTMENT POTENTIAL POSSIBLE. If I cannot sincerely fulfill this obligation to the very best of my ability I will RETURN YOUR CHECK WITHIN FIVE DAYS of receipt of same. I will, however, fill whatever portion of your check possible and return balance at once.

According to statistics and research, the coins I select for you should DOUBLE or TRIPLE in THREE YEARS or LESS. The Investor may aid in my selection by specifying the LENGTH OF TIME he intends to hold coins before selling. However, as I always send coins that have MAXIMUM POTENTIAL this is not exactly necessary, but helpful. Also, you may suggest the coin material you desire for Investment as to rolls, sets, singles, rarities, key-dates, gold, proofs, etc., but I sincerely trust THAT YOU LEAVE THE ULTIMATE CHOICE TO MY HONEST AND SINCERE JUDGMENT.

WHY A POST OFFICE BOX ADDRESS??

In my sincere and earnest desire to give the best and the most of my time to my clients, I find it absolutely necessary and convenient to use a Government Post Office Box address. Only through this dignified medium of correspondence and business transactions can I delve into vast research and sources of coin stock without interruption. Only through this channel can I give the Investor the ultimate of my PERSONAL and CONSCIENTIOUS services for eight, twelve or even sixteen hours daily, if necessary, to strive for the achievement of my client's goals.

Since all my coin stock and cash are kept in convenient Bank Vaults, I am afforded maximum security and freedom in the pursuit of my obligations toward my clients.

NOTICE

AS MANY OF MY OLD FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS KNOW, I HAVE BEEN IN THE RETAIL SHOE BUSINESS FOR YEARS, AND COINS WERE A SIDELINE.

WHEN CASHDAN COIN CO. GOT TOO BIG FOR ME TO HANDLE AS A SIDELINE, I INCORPORATED AS NUMISMATIC COMPANY OF FORT WORTH, AND HAVE HAD SEVERAL PEOPLE RUNNING MY OLD COIN BUSINESS FOR ME. I COULD NOT DEVOTE THE NECESSARY TIME TO SEE THAT EVERYTHING WAS DONE RIGHT AND OVERSEE THE COIN BUSINESS PERSONALLY.

AS OF OCTOBER 1st, I HAVE COMPLETELY DIVORCED MYSELF FROM THE SHOE BUSINESS BY SELLING OUT MY INTEREST IN SEVEN SHOE STORES TO MY FORMER PARTNER IN THE SHOE BUSINESS.

AS OF OCTOBER 1st, I AM 100% IN THE COIN BUSINESS, AND AM READY AND EAGER TO SERVE YOU. I ALSO HAVE A CONSIDERABLE AMOUNT OF CASH ON HAND, AND WILL PAY TOP PRICES FOR DESIRABLE COINS. I WILL TRAVEL ANYPLACE TO BUY COLLECTIONS OF COINS.

AS PRESIDENT OF THE RCDA I WILL BE AVAILABLE FOR TALKS TO CLUBS. PLEASE LET ME HEAR FROM YOU.

"RARE" SILVER DOLLARS MAY SOON BREAK IN YOUR AREA

A total of 40,000,000 unsorted silver dollars still remain in mint vaults and all will probably be distributed within the next few months. Although it is unknown exactly what dates will be found, our confidential sources indicate very few common dates are left. There are still a wide variety of good dates from all mints including CC and Liberty Seated to come. Since our last writing the following dates have been released: 1878-P, 1879-S-O, 1880-S-O, 1881-S-O, 1882-S-O, 1883-O, 1884-O, 1885-S-O as well as all the early P mints. These are more or less common dates but shows a good indication of what's to come.

Last year about this time eastern dealers were able to obtain the formerly rare 1898-O, 02-O, 03-O, 04-O among others from their banks. Several months later banks in Montana got mint bags of 1897-P, 99-P and many other dates. California and Nevada received similar dates a month later. The releasing of "rare" dollars is nothing new. It began some nine years ago with the release of approximately 50 bags of each date of the CC mint with exception of 79-CC, 89-CC and 93-CC. It is thought that these bags are still to come.

If good dollars come to your area, will you be ready for them?

Here is a suggestion that may help keep you from missing the boat just when the crucial time arrives. Go to your bank today or as soon as you can (there is no time to lose). Have a nice long talk with your head teller; making sure he is not busy at the time. Be honest and tell him exactly what you want and why. Don't be afraid to show him the red book, etc. Don't worry about any coin shortage in your area. If you can get on the right side of this man, he can overcome this for you; believe me he can. Be sure he knows you have the cash to back up your plan and that you are willing to take care of all expenses.

When you are fortunate enough to get the good dates, will you know how to market them? The best and safest thing would be to store away for investment; but in most cases this is not practical. About the worst thing you could do is sell them locally. Also bad, is advertising them in the national coin papers. Both of the above will cause an avalanche of collectors and hoarders to descend on all the banks in your locality and you will be quickly cut off from your supply.

Whatever you do, don't panic as one Kansas City dealer did when he got a bag of 03-O's. He soon flooded his local market and got $3.00 or $4.00 each. At the same time, I had a standing offer of $15,000 a bag and couldn't buy any.

If you will be kind enough to call me, I'll arrange to buy your coins for cash and will usually be able to complete the transaction within 24 hours. Particularly wanted are all dollars with mintage less than 6,000,000. I have investors waiting with up to $2 million available for the purchase of these dollars so no quantity is too large. No, I will not pay full retail for them but I will make you a fair offer. Unlike some other dealers, I back up my offers and all my deals are firm. My point is made and I hope you will help us both by remembering this ad.

FOREIGN COINS

For a good many years now a sustained flow of interesting, fairly attributed and soberly priced foreign patterns, gold, crowns, minor coins, medals, proclamation pieces, etc., has moved through my price lists which come out twice a month.

If you have a collection, hoard or stock of worthwhile foreign material you'd like to dispose of advantageously through competent hands, I'd like to hear of it.

GOOD NEWS FOR FOREIGN COIN COLLECTORS

To aid you in understanding more of the vast realm of older foreign numismatics we have privately reprinted the only good comprehensive general reference ever published. J. W. Scott's "Copper, Nickel & Brass Coins of the World" 1913 edition is now available — Postpaid $4.50.

Our book differs from all other reprints by having 10 extra plates containing 182 line drawings, illustrating many obscure coins only described in the text. It is attractively bound in leather-grained paper covers, choice of blue or grey. Printed for durability on high quality, glare-free heavy bond paper.

For the convenience of those who already have a Scott's, we have made the Addenda of extra plates available, separately bound — Postpaid $1.00.

All Canadian customers — Please order our Scott's reprint or separate Addenda from: Regency Stamp & Coin Co., 157 Rupert Ave., Winnipeg 2, Manitoba, Canada

If you are interested in low-priced older minor foreign coins (pre-1850) we think we have the best stock in the Western Hemisphere. No gold, few crowns and no bags or rolls of modern issues will be found in our lists. These lists are perhaps most unique. Please send for your free copy, then compare it with all other lists before ordering.

We are most anxious to do business with foreign coin dealers and welcome their lists. We have been in business since 1955 and are well known as active buyers.

MODERN FOREIGN COINS

Once a year my annual STOCK LIST is issued, full to the brim with nice condition Modern Foreign Coins at reasonable prices. I could use a page or two of this magazine to tell you something about it, but why not write for the list and see for yourself?

It contains something of interest to nearly every collector of foreign coins — lots of minor (my specialty), crowns, banknotes, and many new and recent issues. No pretty pictures, but a serious collector might find it interesting.

No charge for this, and a postal card will do.

ONLY LIMITED SUPPLY LEFT!

Owners of one or more of the Mardi Gras medals in the series struck by Orleans Medalarts may still assemble a complete set, although the supply is now limited.

The 1961 and 1962 medals, struck in nickel silver only, are still available. The issue was limited to 5,000. A supply of 1963 medals is also on hand. These were struck in sterling (500), aluminum (10,000), and nickel silver (5,000) for the first time. The 1963 medal includes the Official Seal of the City of New Orleans on the reverse while the beautiful obverse shows a figure of Bacchus, god of wine and pleasures, Aphrodite, goddess of love, and Neptune, god of the sea.
